MOSCOW, Aug. 4.—Fighting throughout the night on the battle fronts protecting Kiev, Moscow and Leningrad was announced by the Soviet high command today after an earlier communique had stated that two-pronged Nazi drive against Kiev had been stemmed.

At the same time, Soviet authorities declared another German night air raid on Moscow had been repelled with no damage to military objectives.

"Soviet troops continued fighting against the enemy in the directions of Smolensk (west of Moscow) and Korosten and Byelaya-Tserkov (northwest and south of Kiev)," the latest war communique said.

"Fighting also continued on the Estonian sector of the front. On the Rumanian front there were no significant changes."

"The air force, co-operating with land troops, continued to deal blows to enemy mechanized troops, infantry and artillery."

ISTANBUL, Aug. 4.—Approximately 70,000 Rumanian soldiers wounded on the Soviet front already are crowding the hospitals in Bucharest alone and German casualties in the bitter campaign "must be appalling," a traveler arriving from Rumanian capital said today.

"Every time I passed the Royal railway station in the center of the city during the last several weeks," he said, "there have been grim lines of ambulances waiting for incoming trains."

"There is a steady stream of casualties. This station, the informant said, never before was generally used. It had been set aside for exclusive use of former King Carol and other members of the royal family."

Daytime Hours

New Castle and Lawrence county's first nightly blackout of its gas stations, from the standpoint of general closing conformance, was successful.

But whether gas was saved by the 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. closing last night was a matter of some doubt. Some station owners thought the 12-hour shutdown would have effect, others thought not.

Record Sunday sales were reported. Throughout the county, though, most of the 400 to 500 brightly-lit illuminated service stations were dark from 7 on as attendants, complying with a request of the government, locked their pumps until 7 this morning.

Few Motorists Stranded
A few motorists got stranded, for most everyone knew that re-fueling after the deadline hour just couldn't be done.

At one East Side station, a driver pulled into a station at 8:30 and asked for five gallons. Told that gas sales had stopped, he was irked and drove away in a huff and with a promise "never to do business here again."

Experiences like that were rare. (Continued On Page Two)

Announce Heavy Air Raid On Suez

(International News Service)
CAIRO, Aug. 4.—A heavy night air raid on the Suez Canal area, during which 17 persons were killed and 58 were injured, was announced officially today.

The toll of casualties was the heaviest yet inflicted in an air attack on the canal. Property damage was described as slight.

Air raid alarms were sounded at Cairo, Alexandria and Port Said.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—British bombers hammered western Germany and targets in Nazi-occupied France last night and early today as the R. A. F. resumed its attacks on the "western front" while Germany and Russia struggled in the east.

The new British raids followed up the previous night's shattering attack on the heart of Berlin—an assault in which some 200 or more bombers participated.

Editor's note: An official Berlin announcement said the R. A. F. during the night dropped bombs on several places in western Germany but failed to cause any "essential" damage. Three British Wellington bombers were said to have been shot down during the night over Germany.

Authorities disclosed the German industrial cities of Hanover and Frankfurt were the R. A. F. objectives in the Reich during the night. The raids on these points were described as "lighter than usual" owing to bad weather.

The air ministry declared industries and communications were bombed at Hanover and Frankfurt and stated the docks at Calais also were attacked.

One British plane was lost during the night operations. While the R. A. F. raids were in progress, the British air ministry announced, there was slight enemy air activity over the east coasts of Scotland and England.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENTS

(International News Service)
The German-Russian battle of the Giants raged with unchecked fierceness along the far-flung eastern front today, but the world at large again was without definite, verified, authentic news of tactical and strategic developments.

From Berlin came once more the familiar phrase that operations were proceeding according to plan. Berlin said the Red armies are being "ripped to pieces," but furnished only one specific claim. The German high command's sole optimistic assertion today was that railway communications in the Ukraine have been disrupted and that Soviet troops encircled east of Smolensk have been mostly annihilated.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—A new trade agreement between the United States and Soviet Russia will be signed within the next few days, an authoritative source disclosed today.

The new agreement will provide for increased American aid to the Soviet Union. It will replace the existing agreement that expires the middle of this week.

Negotiations for the new agreement have been virtually completed. They have been carried out by Soviet Ambassador Constantin Oumansky and Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles, aided by Loy Henderson, Russian expert in the state department.

Will Mark Advance

While the new trade agreement will not enable the Soviet Union to purchase all the supplies it would like to obtain in this country, it will mark a considerable advance over the existing agreement. The new agreement is being concluded in the spirit of the government's policy of rendering all possible aid to the Soviet Union.

BERLIN, Aug. 4.—War on the eastern front entered its seventh week today with Russian troops resisting "thunderbolt onslaughts" by the German war machine, according to latest advices reaching Berlin.

But military authorities said the Red armies were being "ripped to pieces" and that Nazi steel traps were rushing into vital parts of the Soviet defenses.

While the German high command still remained silent regarding the exact status of the mammoth operations, war dispatches from the front stated the annihilation stage of the gigantic battle is nearing its end.

Police Assert Man Admits Having Attacked Lock
Haven Girl

(International News Service)
LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Aug. 4.—Police announced today that a quarry worker admitted having attacked pretty Georgianna Welty, 23, Lock Haven drug store employee.

The suspect, Ernest Schwab, 38, who is employed in Williamsport, was held for a hearing today. A second man, Clarence Ringer, was detained as a material witness.

The assault on Miss Welty was the fourth such incident in the Lock Haven area in the past six weeks. The young woman aided police by furnishing an excellent description of her assailant.

State police indicated Schwab would be questioned in connection with recent molestations of women here and in Centre county, scene of the unsolved slaying of Rachel Taylor, Pennsylvania State college co-ed, more than a year ago.

Miss Welty allegedly was attacked when she walked through an alley in downtown Lock Haven on her way to work. She succeeded in breaking away from her attacker but collapsed when she reached the main street of the town. Deputy Sheriff Glenn Adams took the girl to the jail to see the suspect and reported she identified him immediately. He added that the man denied the charge.

The attack followed by 48 hours the mysterious assault of Miss Emily Williams, 28-year-old summer student at Lock Haven State Teachers college. Miss Williams, who suffered two deep skull fractures, was unable to furnish authorities with a description of her assailant.

I like to hum that old refrain, especially that line, "it's nice to get up in the morning when the sun begins to shine". For these are the mornings when nature is kind and the sun seems to paint the world gold, for these are the mornings when summer's at full and hasn't quite yet gotten old. When the fruit trees are heavy and gardens are ripe, when the world seems brand spanking new, oh it's nice to get up, and enjoy the fresh world, and the weather is just ninety two.

Saturday found ladies lined up continually at the hosiery counters in the local dry goods stores, seeking to purchase silk hosiery. This, on account of the expected shortage that will occur from the U. S. ban on the Japanese silk shipments. Probably the ladies will have to resort to having hosiery made up with a liquid that gives the effect of the sheers of sheer stockings. This is now being done in war-torn London at a "bare-legal beauty bar" for less than ten cents.

Big Japanese Liner Starts Dash To Japan

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—Hastening to leave United States waters before further complications should arise, the big Japanese luxury liner Tachibana Maru finally shook free of legal and diplomatic tangles and sailed out through the Golden Gate at dawn today, on her non-stop dash back to Tokyo.

She rode high, with only a minimum of ballast, in contrast to the heavy and valuable cargo which had weighed her down on her belated arrival and which was the basis for court actions that delayed sailing. Emergency crews of Stevedores worked up to the last minute loading the ballast, after removing the last of the cargo and the vessel pulled away from her dock at the earliest possible moment.

Gas Rationing Is Now Predicted

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Defense officials predicted today that there will be mandatory rationing of gasoline on the eastern seaboard within a month despite the curfew which now closes thousands of filling stations nightly from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m.

The office of Oil Coordinator Ickes expected "plenty of headaches" to result from the nightly gasoline "blackout" at motorists lamented the curfew. Some defense officials were pretty outspoken about the whole business, one commenting:

"We don't think this is going to work."

ROME, Aug. 4.—Premier Benito Mussolini today included the United States among the enemies of the Axis powers.

Speaking to troops departing from Mantua for the eastern front, he said:

"The battle array is complete. On one side are Rome, Berlin and Tokyo; on the other, London, Washington and Moscow."

Gasoline Curfew Fails To Cut Down Gas Use

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Newspaper-sponsored surveys in 17 states along the eastern seaboard today indicated that the government all-night curfew on gasoline had failed to cut down on fuel consumption.

Although the majority of the 100,000 filling stations from Maine to Florida locked up their tanks from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. at the request of Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes, the surveys indicated non-cooperation on the part of public.

A check of oil companies showed that Sunday motorists boosted gasoline sales to record proportions by jamming the filling stations during daylight hours. Many drivers carried spare five and 10-gallon tanks.

Only official reaction to the first night's operation of the Ickes plan came from New Jersey State Coordinator W. Garrison Metz who admitted the curfew idea had failed in its purpose of saving gasoline. Although the majority of oil companies cooperated with the Ickes order, surveys within a 50-mile radius of New York City showed that across the independent stations and at least one large company were ignoring the shutdown.

As the result of the failure of the dusk-to-dawn curfew, it seemed probable that Ickes' threat to ration gasoline in the east may go into effect. Government leaders were to confer in Washington today to discuss the curfew tryout.

New Viaduct Is Dedicated

Throng Of 5,000 Attends
Ceremony In West Middlesex Saturday Evening

SECRETARY HUGHES
MAKES ADDRESS

(Special To The News)

WEST MIDDLESEX, Aug. 4.—A simple ribbon-cutting gesture by a pretty West Middlesex Girl Scout set off the fanfare late Saturday afternoon which formally dedicated this Mercer County borough's state-new $400,000 viaduct spanning the Shenango river and two railroads.

The scissor clip launched a "Parade of Progress" which was one of the most colorful affairs seen here in years. A crowd estimated at 5,000 participated in the opening celebration.

Hughes Speaker

Speaker for the day was I. Lamont Hughes, secretary of highways of Pennsylvania, who was followed by Burgess E. Tribby, of West Middlesex, and H. A. Parrish, town historian. Presiding as master of ceremonies was Attorney Thomas H. Armstrong, West Middlesex solicitor.

On the speaker's platform, from New Castle, were Mayor Charles B. Mayne and Fred L. Rentz, president of The News Company. Another introduced was J. T. Burke, of Sharon, supervisor of industrial relations of Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.

A bomb, set off in hills west of the borough, signaled the start of the ceremony just before Anna Mae Hensley, the Girl Scout of West Middlesex Troop 12, sliced the ribbon.

Parade Feature

The color squad of Farrell American Legion led the parade, in which were many-colored floats. In line were a Youngstown Boy Scout life and drum corps, Townsend club units, Hickory Township high school band, the Youngstown Scottish band and volunteer firemen from Shenango Valley towns.

A nine-year-old Hubbard girl, Cora Jean Jenny, sang "God Bless America" after the parade had crossed the bridge. One of the high-lights came when Burgess Tribby, his talk over, led the crowd in shouting "thank you," to express the general borough feeling about the building of the viaduct. Overhead, planes droned into a "V" for victory formation.

The new bridge, open to traffic for a week, is 719 feet long with 2,200 feet of concrete approaches.

Open Hearings On Price Control

"Full And Exhaustive Hearings" Are To Be Demanded

CREDIT CONTROL MAY BE ASKED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The house banking and currency committee opened hearings today on the administration's far-reaching price fixing bill, with the list of government witnesses led by Leon Henderson, head of the office of price administration and civilian supply.

As the committee called Henderson, who is slated to become controller of the nation's prices if the proposed bill is enacted into law, Rep. Wolcott (R) Mich., ranking minority member of the house group, declared he will demand "full and exhaustive hearings."

"I have no desire to delay final action on this bill, but I regard the matter as of such extreme importance, affecting every man, woman and child in the country, that I will insist that it be studied thoroughly," Wolcott, who also is chairman of a special Republican committee to study price control, asserted.

To Examine Every Phase
While not opposing "some form of price control," Wolcott and several other house members served notice they will examine every phase of the administration's program and will demand that it include some form of control over credit as well as prices and rent.

Credit control provisions already have been eliminated from the proposed measure, but they are expected to be offered later in the form of separate legislation.

As the bill now stands it would permit the president to set ceilings on any industrial commodity, raw material or service, but would not include control over either wages or credit.

It provides for control over rents, but these would be limited to housing establishments which rent for $15 per month or less and only those in overcrowded defense areas.

Another last minute provision would limit ceilings on agricultural goods to 110 per cent of parity prices, but this concession has failed to satisfy most congressional farm leaders.

They have served notice they will seek either to eliminate the authority to fix farm ceilings, or they will insist that a floor, as well as a ceiling, is set for agricultural prices.

Another group is insisting that price control be delegated to a board rather than to one man.

mand declared that savage fighting continued on all sectors of the front. Another night aerial raid on Moscow failed to damage any military objectives, Soviet authorities said.

Bomb Berlin

British bombers, meanwhile, continued their incessant hammering of cities in Germany and occupied France. Two hundred R. A. F. bombers ripped Berlin Saturday night, and attacked the important ports of Hamburg, Kiel and Cherbourg. The raids continued all day yesterday and through the night with attacks on the important industrial cities of Hannover and Frankfurt.

Tension in the Far East continued to grow as Japanese troops poured into their new bases in Indo-China. There were reports that Japan had moved thousands of troops into Manchukuo, from where any attack on Soviet Siberia would start.

Authoritative quarters in Berlin predicted that the Vichy government of Marshal Henri Philippe Pétain would soon answer "the impudent and stupid threat" of Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles. Berlin also professed to have "secret information" concerning the European meanderings of Lease-Lend Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, but refused to divulge or discuss it.

Increased Soviet Aid

According to an authoritative source in the capital, the new pact will provide for increased American aid to the Soviet Union and will replace an existing agreement which expires the middle of this week.

Revelation that the new Washington-Moscow pact will be signed followed the return of Lease-Lend Administrator Harry Hopkins from Moscow to London following his conferences with Premier Josef Stalin and other officials in the Soviet capital. He is expected to return to the United States shortly.

GAS STATION BLACKOUT IS STARTED HERE

and virtually all station owners said everybody "seems to be taking the inconvenience in stride."

Representatives of the major oil concerns here said only scattered stations were open to serve trucks bearing national defense loads or other necessary cargoes. Doctors and ambulances were also served at those outlets.

See Further Moves

The oil company spokesmen, in most cases, agreed that if motorists do not strive to conserve gas, Defense Oil Co-ordinator Harold L. Ickes will order more restrictive measures, such as all-day Sunday closings.

The threatened shortage throughout the east comes as a result of the crippling of normal transportation facilities by the government's turning over of 50 privately-owned oil tankers to Great Britain. One hundred more may be given to Britain, it is understood, to help the British in their battle against the Axis.

groups of Nazi planes attempted to raid Russian positions, flying at tremendous altitudes, broke through to the city.

The others, however, were scattered by night fighters and anti-aircraft batteries.

Bombs dropped on Moscow
Bombs dropped by the planes that penetrated Moscow's defenses, started a few fires which were extinguished quickly. Authorities declared military objectives suffered no damage.

On the front, the greatest fighting centered on the Ukrainian front, where counter-attacking Soviet tank and cavalry units battled to save Kiev from threatened encirclement.

These forces were declared to have wiped out two crack Nazi regiments, and it was claimed that similar counter-blows on the fronts facing Moscow and Leningrad also were inflicting new reverses on the attacking Germans.

(Editor's Note: An exchange telegram [British] dispatch from Gothenburg, Sweden, quoted Finnish newspaper reports as stating a "great British fleet" has arrived in the Arctic ocean and is co-operating with the Russian armies.

British Navy Aids

This report said the Finnish press suggested that the British naval forces together with Soviet concentrations indicate last week's British bombing attacks on Petsamo and Kirkenes were part of a comprehensive plan of operations.)

The Soviet information bureau said large Russian tank formations and two regiments of motorized Russian "annihilated" the two German regiments in the Zhitomir sector of the Ukrainian front.

More than 1,500 German troops were killed or wounded in the six-hour battle, it was stated, and 340 surviving Nazi officers and men surrendered. An "enormous" quantity of German equipment was said to have been seized when the retreating Germans retreated in "panic flight."

Throughout Sunday, the high command said, heavy fighting raged around Smolensk on the road to Moscow, in the Estonian approach to Leningrad and in the southern sectors of Korosten and Belyay-Tserkov, 95 miles northwest and 45 miles south of Kiev.

Mrs. Catherine Louise Lehman, aged 85, passed away this morning at her home in Vandergrift, Pa. She was the widow of John P. Lehman, who preceded her in death on January 27, 1914.

Mrs. Lehman was born in Bedford county on June 9, 1856, daughter of Frederick and Catherine Corley Mowry.

She had been a resident of New Castle for 25 years until April when she went to Vandergrift to make her home. She was a member of St. Mary's church.

Survivors are the following children: Mrs. F. J. Cunningham, Flora E. Lenman, Vandergrift; Mrs. Charles Fochtman, Mrs. James Flemming, New Baltimore, Pa.; Mrs. Clyde C. Holler, Trenton, N. J.; Mrs. A. N. Fautel, Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. Frank W. Valley, Paul P. Lehman, New Castle; George H. Lehman, Everett, Pa.; J. Albert Lehman, Johnstown, Pa.; 32 grand-children, 18 great-grandchildren, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Anna Sherman, Hyndman, Pa.; Mrs. Harvey Adams and Lewis Mowry, Buffalo Mills, Pa.

The body will be at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Fochtman, New Baltimore, Pa., where funeral services will be held in St. John's church Wednesday morning at nine o'clock. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Joseph Clarence Kaufman
Joseph Clarence Kaufman, aged 76, passed away at his home, 613 Superior street, Sunday morning at 5:30 o'clock, death being caused by infirmities of age. He had been ill for two weeks.

Mr. Kaufman was born in New Castle on September 14, 1864, son of John and Mary Ann Wimer Kaufman, and had spent his entire life in New Castle and vicinity. He was a cement worker by trade but had not worked since 1929. For 51 years he had been married to Elizabeth Brown Kaufman, who survives him.

Mr. Kaufman was a member of Dewey Avenue Free Methodist church. He had always been active in church work and was well known as a layman preacher.

Surviving, in addition to his wife, are the following children, Mrs. Earl Walters of Pittsburgh, Emory Kaufman of Lancaster, Pa., William Kaufman of New Castle, Josephine and Cecil, at home; seven grand-children and one great-grandchild. Mr. Kaufman was the youngest of a family of 15 children and leaves only one surviving brother, Adam Kaufman of Portersville.

The body was taken to the residence this morning from the George A. Morrow funeral home, North Jefferson street. Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon, August 6, at 2:30 o'clock from the Arlington Avenue Free Methodist church, with Rev. F. W. Parks in charge. Interment will be in Grace-land cemetery.

Mrs. Benjamin Miller
Mrs. May Jackson Miller, aged 54, wife of Benjamin Miller of Pulaski township, near New Bedford, passed away Saturday evening at 6:15 o'clock at her home. Mrs. Miller, who had suffered a stroke some time ago, had been ill for a long while.

She was born in Kansas City, Mo., on July 6, 1887, daughter of William and Lizzie Porter Jackson. She was married to Mr. Miller on September 19, 1922.

Surviving are her husband, her mother, Mrs. Lizzie Jackson, and one daughter, Verla Mae Miller.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the New Bedford Presbyterian church with Rev. Robert Veach in charge. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery, New Bedford.

The body, removed to the Sharp funeral home in New Wilmington, is being taken to the residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Raffaella Teresa Chiaveini
Miss Raffaella Teresa Chiaveini, aged 42, of Rose Point, passed away in the New Castle hospital this morning at three o'clock. Miss Chiaveini became suddenly ill on Sunday while visiting neighbors and was removed to the New Castle hospital last evening.

She was born in Italy on February 12, 1899, daughter of Luigi and Mary Scarce Chiaveini. She had resided 40 years in this country and was a member of St. Vitus church.

Surviving are her father, Luigi Chiaveini; two half-brothers, and three half-sisters, in Connecticut.

The body is now at the R. L. Boyd funeral home, North Jefferson street, and will be removed to the residence, near Rose Point, Tuesday morning.

Funeral mass will be celebrated in St. Vitus church Thursday morning at nine o'clock, with Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita in charge. Interment will be in St. Vitus cemetery.

Robert Brown
Funeral services for Robert Brown, aged 60, who passed away Saturday at 12:50 p. m. at his home, 518 East Winter avenue, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence, with Rev. G. R. Thayer, pastor of the Third U. P. church, officiating. Interment will be in Oak Park cemetery.

Mr. Brown had been ill for eight months. Born in West Middlesex on December 7, 1880, son of William and Mary Davidson Brown, he had resided in New Castle for the past five years, and formerly resided in Harlansburg. He was a highway and bridge construction foreman by occupation. For 38 years Mr. Brown had been married to Bertha Kaufman Brown, who survives him.

Surviving, in addition to his wife, are the following children: Mrs. D. D. Mullett, of Aspinwall, William R. Brown, of Volant R. D. 2, Mrs. M. S. Ettenger, wife of Dr. M. S. Ettenger, of Philadelphia, Claire L. Brown, at home, Clark L.

Mrs. Filomena Scarazzo

Mrs. Filomena Scarazzo, aged 79, of 1011 Pollock avenue, passed away in New Castle hospital Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock following a three weeks illness.

She was born in Tortoreto, Italy, on March 7, 1863. With her husband, Cesare, who survives her, Mrs. Scarazzo came to the United States in November, 1913. She resided here since her arrival in this country.

Besides her husband Mrs. Scarazzo is survived by the following children, all residents of New Castle: Elrick H. 5 West Laurel avenue; Mrs. Adeline Maragoni, 412 Electric street; Dominick, 208 East Lutton, Mrs. Rosie Toscano, 813 Harrison street; Patsy, 417 Bartram avenue; Alfonso, 216 Hazel-croft avenue; James L. 514 1/2 Pearson street, and Nicholas, 410 Bar-ton avenue.

One of several nephews, Anthony Nepa, resides in Bristol, Pa. The others live in Europe.

She is also survived by 12 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Scarazzo was one of the most devout members of St. Vitus church.

The body was removed to the Scarazzo residence, 1011 Pollock avenue, late this afternoon.

Funeral services will be conducted on Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church.

Interment will be made in St. Vitus cemetery.

Mrs. Leonhardt Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. T. A. Leonhardt were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, Ellwood City, R. D. 1, by Rev. Louis Bessecker, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, in charge.

Palbearers were Carl Newton, Albert Brown, Harry Lusher, Robert Walters, Vernon Kirker and Arthur Howie.

Interment was in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Rev. Sankey Funeral

Largely attended funeral services for Rev. Stewart Y. Sankey, Plain-grove, were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence. Officiating ministers were Rev. Lawrence Faivre; Rev. C. W. Johnson, Rev. J. C. Fulton, Rev. Samuel Dodds and Rev. Harvey McCormick.

Members of the Men's Bible class of the Plaingrove U. P. church served as flowerbearers. Honorary pallbearers were G. A. Hamilton and R. W. Armstrong. Active pallbearers were Clarence Pollock, Roy Dight, Ed. Brown, William Elliott, F. L. Adams and Gill McKisick.

Interment was in the United Presbyterian cemetery at Plaingrove.

John Biasucci

After an illness of about four weeks duration, John Biasucci, aged 54, of 302 1/2 East Long avenue, passed away in the New Castle hospital on Sunday, Aug. 3.

Mr. Biasucci, born in St. Louis, Mo., on November 1, 1886, son of Nicholas and Caroline DeThomas Biasucci, had resided in New Castle for the past 35 years. He was a barber by trade and had been engaged in that occupation during his entire residence in this city.

Surviving are his wife, Mary Okarma Biasucci; two sons, Nicholas and Ernest, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Caroline Seszko and Katherine, of New Castle; two grandchildren, a brother, Peter, in New Castle, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Piccari, Mrs. Rose Colella and Mrs. Josephine Landolf, all of New Castle.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday morning at 7:45 o'clock from the residence, with further services at 8:30 o'clock in St. Vitus church. Interment will be in the family plot at St. Vitus cemetery.

NEW TRADE AGREEMENT WITH SOVIET RUSSIA NEAR

ble aid to the Soviet Union in the resistance against German aggression.

The psychological effect of the new agreement in bolstering the morale of the Russian people is expected to be greater than the practical effects it may have in getting needed war supplies to the Soviet.

Russia would like to purchase millions of dollars worth of machine tools and actual implements of war, but defense requirements of this country will not enable the government to grant in full the requests which have been made by the Soviet government.

Some Vital War Materials

However, arrangements are being made to divert to Russia some vital war supplies originally intended for Great Britain, and the new trade agreement is expected to facilitate the shipment of the goods. Diversion of the war supplies has been decided upon with the consent of Great Britain, which is being consulted in connection with all proposed American aid to the Soviet Union.

A list of Soviet needs was presented to this government by General Alexander Golikov, deputy chief of the Soviet general staff and head of the Soviet military mission to the United States.

It is expected that American aid to the Soviet Union may be further increased following the return to Washington from Moscow of Harry L. Hopkins, who conferred with Premier Joseph Stalin on Russia's needs in this country.

Bucharest. Whether use of the royal station means that other stations have been bombed and rendered useless was not disclosed.

The Russian fighting, according to this well-informed traveler, has been extremely severe and the casualties unprecedentedly heavy.

"The German casualties must have been appalling, according to German businessmen with whom I talked in Bucharest," he said.

They said the wounded had been arriving in Berlin alone at a rate of 15,000 daily.

"Some of these businessmen, incidentally, are beginning to look quite worried and despondent."

Curiously enough, the traveler continued, morale in Bucharest remains fairly good.

"There never was an enthusiasm for the war there," he said. "But at least morale has got no worse."

"Apart from arrival of wounded troops, there are few signs of war in Bucharest. There is no food shortage and there are very few signs of bombing around the city."

"It pays to keep off the streets at night and be extremely careful with lights, however, because police and air raid warden's have nervous trigger fingers."

The traveler said he could not give any first-hand report on Soviet bombings of the Ploesti oil fields and the port of Constanta.

Highway Guarded
Under direct orders of Commander Lynn G. Adams of the state motor police more than 100 miles of state highway was being closely guarded to prevent further tie-ups of traffic and possible rioting.

But at the Summit hotel it was reported more than 100 pickets, armed with stones and rocks, were waiting for any timber truck which might attempt to break through into Uniontown.

The timber, which is being carted sure.

by the Independent Tri-State Lumbermen and Truckers' Union, meanwhile, was reported moving slowly over outlying highways under state motor police convoy.

Mine officials had previously declared that unless they received supplies of pit posts, webbing, cross ties and other materials, they would be forced to shut down operations.

The C. I. O. lumber, timber and sawmill workers' organizing committee charged the independent union was dominated by the operators and declared a contract between the operators and the independent was "highly unsatisfactory."

The C. I. O. union demands exclusive bargaining rights.

There have been repeated threats of violence as the independent union decided to begin hauling supplies today, regardless of the stand taken by the C. I. O.

MRS. RALPH CAMPBELL WILL ENTERTAIN CLUB

August meeting of the Lawrence County Garden club will be marked by a one o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Ralph Campbell, Hazlet avenue, Thursday, of this week.

The program will include another of the interesting, "Do You Know?" installments by Mrs. E. W. Greiner, in addition to a round table discussion on the subject, "Lattices and Fences."

The club exhibits for the meeting will be arrangements of vegetables.

TWENTY-NINERS CLUB PLANS DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. John Dockman opened their Summer avenue home to members of the Twenty-Niners club Saturday evening, when plans were made for a dinner and theater party to take place August 23.

Tables of five hundred were in play, with prizes awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shaw and Mrs. Ernest Shaffer. At a later hour, a delightful lunch was served by the hostess.

Members of the club were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sweet on Butler avenue extension for their next regular meeting, the date of which will be announced later.

Pantherette Club

The meeting of the Pantherette club will be held on August 5 at 8 o'clock in the Union Calabro club rooms, Division street, instead of August 12 as previously planned.

Mrs. Josephine Fuleno, Mrs. Victoria Lamorella, Mrs. Angeline Lombardo and Mrs. Nellie Venditto are hostesses.

SHAFFER-SALLADE WEDDING NEWS TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shaffer delightfully entertained on Friday evening in their home in New Wilmington and made known the wedding of their daughter, Betty, to Horace Sallade, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sallade of Sharon.

Hours were enjoyed in playing bridge and 500, with high score awards going to Mrs. Howard Rodgers, Ruth Nevin and Mrs. James Kirkpatrick.

Later a delicious lunch was served at attractively appointed tables, with a tiny scroll, attached to a daisy, marking each place. Revealed within was the news: "This little daisy didn't tell—Betty and Hag," July 19, 1940.

Mr. and Mrs. Sallade were married in Covington, Ky., with Rev. A. H. Davis, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. James Thornbelle of Warren, O., were the couple's attendants.

The bride is secretary to W. L. Eakin, chief clerk to the county commissioners, and Mr. Sallade is associated with the Mercer Tube company in Sharon where the couple will be at home to their friends after August 15.

All-Together Club

Members of the All-Together club gathered for their third anniversary picnic outing Sunday at Cascade park.

An informal time was enjoyed and the following prizes were given, oldest person, Mrs. Concetta Leonardo; youngest person, Mrs. Bridget DeGennaro, fattest person, Mrs. Assunta Orielli; thinnest person, Mrs. Elizabeth Cubellis.

Special guest present was Mrs. Claudia Ross. Supper was served in the grove.

On August 13 Mrs. Mary Ross of Summit street will entertain.

HUGHES-CALL WEDDING AT FIRST U. P. CHURCH

Before a beautifully embanked altar of white gladioli, palms and ferns, Miss Marian Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Leroy Hughes of Wilkinsburg, and formerly of this city, became the bride of James Burton Call, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Call of Clarion, Saturday afternoon, in the First United Presbyterian church on Glenmore boulevard.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized at 3:30 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of friends with Rev. J. Calvin Rose, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, officiating with the single ring service.

Following the exchange of vows, Miss Mary Louise Kirkpatrick played an organ medley of nuptial numbers including Prelude on "All Through the Night," "I Love You Truly," "At Dawning," "Because," and "Intermezzo."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was a picture of loveliness, in a white marquisette gown, with lace insertions, made princess style, and her veil was finger-tip length. Her only ornament was a strand of gold beads, an heirloom of the family, and she carried a shapely bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Harriet Hughes, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a pink marquisette gown, and Mrs. Paul I. Bagnall, nee Maralouise Thomas of Youngstown, who was matron of honor, was attired in pink chiffon.

Miss Jane Haven, of this city, was bridesmaid, and also wore pink chiffon. Their hats were pink marquisette, fashioned in a style, and they carried matching colonial bouquets of pink roses sprinkled with blue.

Merle Call served his brother as best man and ushers were Robert Carr and James McIntosh.

Following the ceremony the wedding dinner was served in The Castleton, for the bridal party and immediate families.

The bride graduated from the local high school, Grove City college, and has been a teacher in the Clarion schools. Mr. Call is a graduate of Clarion State Teacher's college and is affiliated with Wein's Department Store in Clarion.

After a short wedding trip the couple will reside in Clarion.

SECTION ONE TO MEET WEDNESDAY

GASOLINE 12 HOURS A DAY

THE policy of scarcity having now been applied to sales of gasoline in the East, by order of none other than Secretary Harold L. Ickes, oil "coordinator," himself, it is interesting to speculate what the next development will be. No one in the oil industry believes Ickes' order banning sales of gasoline in the Atlantic seaboard states between the hours of 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. represents the full regimentation to be imposed on the oil industry.

Ickes' edict was issued after he had appealed to motorists in the East to use less gasoline, a request that was followed by a large increase in consumption. It cannot of course be proved that such a request issued by someone else would have elicited greater co-operation.

This policy of severity now being imposed on motorists in the East is not the result of plowing every third wheel under, but it is entirely the result of government action. Fifty huge ocean-going oil tankers, used to haul oil from Texas and California to eastern coast ports, were seized by the government and turned over to the British. This reduced the number of tankers available to keep the Eastern part of the United States supplied with oil from the great oil fields of the West from approximately 600 to 550.

This may not appear to be a large reduction, but these 50 tankers hauled an average of 100,000 barrels—not gallons—of oil each per trip or a total of 5,000,000 barrels for the 50 tankers. This is now the one day's output of all the oil wells in the United States. It is the quantity of oil that 400 freight trains, or 100 oil tanker cars each, could haul.

Having seized these tankers and donated them to the British war effort, the Administration set afloat rumors and suggestions of measures it was planning to take to prevent an oil shortage in the East, including the laying of a $100,000,000 pipe line from Texas to Philadelphia, the construction of 100 new ocean-going oil tankers, etc.

Oil men say the banning of gasoline sales between the hours of 7 p. m. and 7 a. m. will have little effect on consumption of motor fuel. Motorists, they predict, will fill the tanks of their cars before 7 p. m. They are of the opinion that government officials do not expect the policy of gasoline scarcity to work under this regulation, but that this comparatively mild step was taken to "condition" the public, to accustom it to oil rationing, so that when the bad news is really promulgated by Ickes, there will be less protest.

BERLIN NAZI UNEASY

Evidently Nazi leaders are in imminent expectation of heavy bombing reprisals on Berlin by Britain and perhaps by Russia. The Luftwaffe went a great deal farther than seemed to be dictated by war aims in tearing London apart and seems bent upon repeating at Moscow. Of course, the Nazis realize that if Britain and Russia ever get the chance, they will blast Berlin with great gusto.

Returning to New York, Lincoln MacVeagh, United States minister to Greece, reported that the Nazis are assiduously camouflaging Berlin. Trees are being planted on top of the most conspicuous Berlin buildings. Bicycle roads, which are numerous and wide because the bicycle is about the only means of transportation available to Berliners, were once white. They are being painted green. Ponds and streams of water outside Berlin are being covered with reeds so they will look green.

All this would be likely to avail the Nazis nothing if Britain, with great and growing air power, is determined upon bombing reprisals. Bombing planes can ride beams to Berlin, dump their bombs despite any camouflage, and fly home for more. Just now the British are mainly engaged in bombing German factories and military depots. But the Nazis are uneasy about Berlin's safety.

The city which has twice within a quarter of a century been the headquarters of attempts at world domination, entailing the loss of millions upon millions of lives and uncountable material wealth, may not even a speck upon the map when this war is ended.

TO SAVE MONEY FOR INCOME TAXES

August ushers in the treasury's new plan for cushioning the additional load of next year's income taxes. "Anticipation notes" may be bought through banks in denominations of from $25 up to suit all pocket-books. They are good only for paying income taxes, but the government offers an inducement to purchase.

The smaller notes, up to $100, in which most persons will be interested, provide an interest return of about 1.92 per cent a year. They may be presented in amounts not exceeding $1200 in any one year for paying current income taxes. The effect is to enable the purchaser to obtain a small discount on his taxes. A $100 certificate bought now and turned in next March to meet the first installment would bring a saving of something over a dollar.

The chief systematic saving, is the provision of a plan for systematic saving to cover future obligations to the government. Having to pay taxes on money already spent has frequently worked hardship, particularly where a person has lost his job or suffered reduction in salary or wages.

Taxpayers can, of course, establish their own saving plans, but under the treasury's scheme their money would be earmarked for a definite purpose and they are not tempted to spend it on other objects. This plan should be especially useful in view of the greatly increased taxes projected for next year, which will render it necessary for most persons to start making provision now to foot the bill.

Hints On Etiquette

It is all right to "drop in" on friends if you plan not to stay if you find they have other guests or have planned to go out. Generally speaking, if you have a telephone and they do, too, it is better to phone and find out if they are at home or have other plans for the time you propose to call.

Another explanation of America is that most of the front-page stories are sent out from New York, Washington and Hollywood.

No wonder Americans are indifferent. It takes a pep meeting to work up a frenzy even for a football game.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACHING CHILD TO ADD, SPELL

Learning the basic facts in addition, subtraction and multiplication, or learning to spell a word is a matter of rote memory. In spite of all the warnings one reads and hears against having the child learn things by heart, a few children will succeed well at school, especially above the fourth grade, who have not acquired the art of learning certain things mechanically, by repeating them over and over.

Many teachers call this drill. But drill usually consists of the repetition of wrong as well as right associations with the naive but vain hope that the rights will always stick and the wrongs slip away. Yet the rights often slip and the wrongs often stick. Anyway the wrongs as well as rights persist as a result of the usual drill. The trouble is, drill nearly always comes too late in the learning stage of each item to be memorized. Generally it affords repetition only after the item to be learned has been learned wrong.

Good drill, on the other hand, consists of repetition only of the rights and before the wrongs have slipped in.

Avoid Mistakes

Therefore, the best teaching at home or school of essential items which will be needed a life time like the simple addition facts and spelling, is teaching which induces the child never to make any wrong association of these items, and to always repeat them correctly.

Strangely enough, many teachers will tell the child learning: 5 plus 4 equals 9, 6 plus 7 equals 13, 8 plus 3 equals 11, 5 plus 9 equals 14; to say, 5 and 4 are 9, 6 and 7 are 13, 8 and 3 are 11, 5 and 9 are 14. Then the pupils repeat the series again and again. This is a wasteful procedure for one problem tends to connect up in the child's mind with the rest of the series. A far better way is to say, while looking at the entire fact, 5 and 4 are 9, 5 and 4 are 9, 5 and 4 are 9, and so on many more times, while still looking at it, till it can all be said from memory when the answer is not seen on the black-board.

This is also true in learning to spell five words. It is best to center on one word until it is learned before going to the next word.

The 100 simple addition facts and 100 simple subtraction facts which should be learned by heart may be had without cost by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. What are some of the common signs of unmannered aunts and uncles against children?

A. The uncle tends to tease the younger child and to lavish gifts on him; the aunt, to be over-critical of the youngster's manners. Both, however, may aspire the growing youngster with ambition.

The World and the Mud Puddles

KEEP YOUR TEMPER.

At every crisis in the country's history, there has been divided opinion on the best course to follow to weather the storm. It would be a strange democracy without pros and cons.

So today, if one of your fellow citizens emphatically clears his throat, clinches his pipe or cigar firmly between his teeth, and proceeds to tell you just what your foreign policy should be—a policy, we'll say, exactly the opposite of what you believe—don't lose your temper, refuse to speak to him, or put him down as a pernicious "fellow traveler."

As for the really subversive groups, the FBI has them pretty well in hand. The government crack-down on German Consulates and their agents has cleared the decks of another group who have abused the nation's hospitality to boost the Nazi scheme of things in our midst. So there's small need for alarm if you hear fellow Americans occasionally sound off on themes that sound discordant to your ears. Clash of opinion by loyal citizens is an old American custom, and a good one.

Though at present there may not be full agreement on the means, all true Americans are agreed on the end—the preservation, in all its majesty and might, of their country. And that's the really important thing!

Question: Are guests obliged to bring gifts when they attend a housewarming?—Sally.

Answer: There is no obligation to do so, but guests usually do bring something for the new home.

Question: What clothes should a guest wear at an afternoon wedding and an evening wedding?—Ellen.

Answer: A street-length dress, hat and gloves to the afternoon wedding whether it be formal or informal. If the evening wedding is to be informal you may wear a street-length dress, hat and gloves to both the ceremony and the reception. If it is to be formal, and you are to sit "in the ribbons" and go later to the reception, you should wear evening clothes or at least a dinner dress and wrap. If you are going simply to witness the ceremony (not going to the reception) and not "sitting in the ribbons" you may wear street clothes, if you wish.

Question: When does the bride throw her bouquet and who stands in the group to receive it?—H.

Answer: On her way upstairs to change to her travelling clothes, she throws her bouquet over the railing. Her attendants stand in a group at the foot of the stairs. At some weddings, all the single girls stand in the group. Whoever catches it is supposed to be the next bride.

WHEN MOTHER TUCKED ME IN AT NIGHT

Through memory's haze a face I see.

A face suffused with love's soft light.

That from her eyes shone tenderly.

When mother tucked me in at night.

The storm might rage about the farm.

Within the house 'twas snug and light.

And I felt shielded from all harm.

When mother tucked me in at night.

Beside my little bed she'd kneel.

(Never have I seen a lovelier sight).

And send to heaven her warm appeal.

To keep me safe till morning light.

Back through the years my thoughts oft fly.

When worsted in life's strenuous fight.

And for that blissful time I sigh.

When mother tucked me in at night.

What's What At A Glance

Welles Acting As Secretary Of State
Does Good Job During Hull's Absence
Proves Professional Diplomat In Role

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Owing to Secretary Cordell Hull's prolonged ill health, Undersecretary Sumner Welles has been the real head of the state department during most of the period of acute disturbances in Europe, North Africa, Asia, the Atlantic and the Mediterranean, and of momentous trends throughout Latin America.

It's the general sentiment in Washington that he has handled his bewildering multiplicity of jobs very competently.

The fact is that this current war is as much a diplomatic struggle as it is a military, naval and aviation affair. And Sumner Welles is a natural diplomat. Furthermore, he's improved on nature by a long course of training. A good many of our diplomats are amateurs. He's a professional.

There are times when a diplomat needs to be affable, and occasionally more or less yielding. For instance, such an attitude if of the highest importance in our relationships with our Latin-American neighbors. Sumner is great at it both by temperament and personal experience in their midst. Yet he also knows when and how to get tough, as with Germany, and with Japan, just at present.

Welles Well-To-Do

It happens that Sumner's quite a rich man. Well, an American diplomat needs to be rich. It isn't so necessary at home in the state department, but wealth is almost an indispensable for a foreign assignment. An ambassador or a minister's stipend sounds fairly liberal, liberal, stated in dollars and cents, but his expenses are something fierce, too, at most foreign capitals.

I once had this pointed out to me very convincingly. I was living in Buenos Aires at the time. Dr. Julius Klein was sent there as our commercial attaché. He was well equipped for the position by education. He was a first rate economist, spoke excellent Spanish and had the personality to ingratiate himself with the Argentines. Consequently he was a great success.

Nevertheless, after only a few months' service, it was announced that he had resigned and was going home. Meeting him on the street, I asked him, "How come?"

"The truth is," he answered, "that I can't live on my salary and I haven't a sufficient income of my own to supplement it." I know what his pay was—$8,000 annually. It seemed to me that I could worry along on that, and he saw from my expression what I was thinking.

"Oh, yes," he said, "I could make $8,000 go too, if I could regulate my own expenses. But, a day or two after my arrival here I had to see the minister of agriculture and wrote him for an appointment. His answer was a warm invitation to attend a big social function at his house. On it was a classy gathering."

Too Expensive

The same thing followed in connection with the ministers of finance and foreign affairs and military affairs and assorted notabilities. Now I've been the rounds and it's up to me to reciprocate, or I can't continue associating with them. But, if I do reciprocate, it'll add clean out my $8,000."

So that's an excellent reason why a man's GOT to be rich to accept a diplomatic appointment. The trouble is that a lot of them get such appointments only because the ARE rich, not because they're capable diplomats.

Sumner Welles, however, while a

BERLIN ATTACK IS FOLLOWED BY FURTHER RAIDS

In northeast England where some houses were demolished and casualties were caused, including a few persons killed.

In addition to the attacks on western Germany, British planes pounded targets across the channel early this morning.

Just before midnight the British planes dropped flares over the French coast and later flashes and explosions were seen near Calais, where a heavy anti-aircraft barrage was sent up.

Later the R. A. F. attack appeared to broaden out along the coast towards Boulogne. So heavy were the bombs dropped by the British planes that buildings on the Kent coast were shaken.

During the daylight hours of Sunday, the air ministry said, British fighters carried out many offensive operations over the channel and northern France, attacking large numbers of enemy objectives, including patrol vessels, planes parked at airfields, gun emplacements and other targets.

Aldromes were raked by cannon and machine gun fire from low levels. Four German planes were shot down while one British plane was lost, the ministry said.

The previous night's attack on Berlin was one of the heaviest carried out by the R. A. F. Tons of bombs also were dropped on the ports of Hamburg and Kiel.

Official accounts of the attack on the German capital said many large fires were left burning in Berlin. So heavy was the raid that an official British statement said: "Berlin's winter began in earnest last night."

BIG JAP LINER STARTS DASH TO JAPAN

swarmed with customs, immigration and F. B. I. agents as her hasty preparations were completed.

Hvs 350 Passengers

The vessel's 350-odd Orient-bound passengers, mostly Japanese, were all aboard by last midnight. They were carefully scrutinized by the government officers.

A heavy guard was placed over the Tatuta's $2,500,000 silk cargo, piled in the pier shed after being hurriedly unloaded.

With her holds emptied, the liner needed ballast to make her seaworthy for the long return trip, and barrels of crude oil and sacks of cocoa beans and asphalt, all belonging to Japanese firms and not involved in President Roosevelt's "asset-freezing" order, were hoisted aboard.

U. S. marshals were withdrawn from the ship last night, after the last bale of cargo had been removed. Eighteen libel actions filed by American importers were lifted by Federal Judge Martin Welsh with the agreement that all incoming cargo, which the Japanese had intended to take back to Japan, should be unloaded.

EASTERN FRONT WAR ENTERING SEVENTH WEEK

ed the German advance is progressing "according to plan" under a central, unified control, and that these attacks are crushing and disorganizing the Soviet forces along the entire front.

Soviet troops are still being formed in which the trapped Russian armies are being forced to engage in violent combat and then are being annihilated, authorities claimed.

German quarters said the only remaining question is "How long will it be before the Soviets crack and the Germans stage a blitz drive against Moscow?"

Latest reports from the front asserted the Red armies have not only suffered heavy losses in materials as well as men during the past few days, but the Luftwaffe has so heavily pounded Russian transport facilities that the Soviet forces are now suffering from a lack of reinforcements, munitions and oil supplies.

Railways Disrupted

Berlin, Aug. 4.—The German high command today announced disruption of all railway communications in the Ukraine by German and Hungarian troops driving toward the vital city of Kiev.

The majority of Soviet troops encircled east of Smolensk have been annihilated, it was announced, while the balance face inevitable capture.

Luftwaffe war planes bombed armament factories and supply bases in the Moscow as well as the important railway junction of Durn.

Navy Yard. Some of these strikes will be certified to the President's Mediation board; some will not be. All of them, however, will be settled by concessions to the unions not only in the matter of wages but in union recognition in other directions considered more important by the labor bosses.

THAT has been the practically uniform result of every defense strike since the first one. At the rate things are going, before another year has passed these professional labor bosses will have made great progress toward their main objective, which is the compulsory unionization of all labor. When this is achieved, no worker can get a job unless he belongs to the union. This is another way of saying that no employer can hire or keep hired anyone not a union member. What that means, of course, is the completely closed shop. Along with the "check-off," by which dues are automatically deducted from the weekly pay envelope and turned over to the union by the employer, the completely closed shop is the long-chestered dream of every labor racketeer.

NOT until recently, however, has any realistic labor boss believed that this dream could come true. Now many of them do, and they are pretty excited about the prospect. Because they know that once it is realized their power is practically limitless. Once let it be translated into fact and the authority of the employer over his own business would be altogether gone. He would be unable to resist any demand made upon him by the unions, which then would have taken over the business of the country. Even now the Administration is dominated and Congress cowed by the political power of the labor bosses. Consider the situation if this power should be doubled, as it unquestionably would be if that closed-shop dream should come completely true.

IT is a pretty appalling prospect, but no one can deny that great strides toward that goal have been taken in the last few months and that every week the new strikes and new concessions bring it closer. It is clear that the labor bosses have been using the national emergency to push their plans. It is clear too, that they have had Administration encouragement in doing so. It was the White House attitude which months ago blocked the legislation that would have outlawed defense strikes. The same attitude prevented modification of the Wagner Act, which hampers the defense contractor at every turn.

THUS protected, it is not surprising the labor leaders are squeezing every possible advantage out of the situation. In every strike settlement the compromise always gives the aggressor something. As the unions have been the aggressors in every defense strike, they have gotten all or part of what they asked in every settlement. Except in one case, every strike settled by the Mediation board has been settled by forcing the employer to yield to all or some of the labor demands. In four months the board has forced wage increases of more than $100,000,000. And, in the same period, without committing itself to the principle, it has helped the unions considerably toward their closed-shop goal.

THE charge has been made that the board has become the chief instrument for enforcement of New Deal labor policy and that it has compelled employers, in several cases, to accept N. L. R. B. rulings without opportunity to test their validity in court. This may or may not be true, but a cold survey of the facts makes these conclusions seem inescapable: First, that the real profitters developed by the defense program are not the industrialists, but the labor leaders; second, that, despite their patriotic protests, these are capitalizing a national crisis for their own purposes; third, that the result has been to add enormously to the cost of the program in dollars; and to lose an immense amount of vitally important time; fourth, that these things have happened partly because of White House coddling of labor leaders, partly because so many of these leaders have been placed in key defense positions, partly because their political link with the New Deal is so strong that one always supports the other. When these things are considered it does not seem unfair to say that the threat to what we so fondly call the "American system" is not all from the outside.

Arkansans poured yellow paint on a Lindbergh monument, but Alas! they showed their contempt for yellowness by doing it under cover of darkness.

He's more coherent than any democratic statesman whom I've heard of on the subject of the kind of post-war world we ought to be figuring on. Hardly any of them discuss the matter.

British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden's an exception. He recently made a speech apropos the question. His thesis was that Germany's got it never'll be able to prep heretofore. But that's what they thought they'd done the LAST time, and look how it worked!

Sumner's vision is for a league of nations on a basis of economic world equality that'll make all the nations WANT to get into it and disarm, all around—not in phoney fashion, as previously.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 4.—A disgruntled liquor dealer, tipped off by a capital newspaper, has been ordered to increase his price for the sale of Philadelphia, the governor's secretary. The governor had increased Pedigo's salary from $7,500 to $9,000 a year, a $1-a-week raise, but the increase had not been made public, although there is a standing executive order that all department heads must issue to news correspondents at the Capitol a list of all personnel changes.

The liquor board employee telephoned shortly after the governor had vetoed a bill increasing salaries of liquor clerks by $3.50 a week. The governor yesterday vetoed a bill raising his pay, but he has increased his secretary's salary by $1,500, the employee said. A check of the auditor general's department showed this to be correct.

A record $305,844 in tolls was taken in by the Pennsylvania Turnpike commission during the first 28 days of July. The busy super-highway accommodated 275,660 cars during that period, 253,095 of them being passenger vehicles.

Science is the loser through the governor's veto of a bill authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical Commission to maintain as a state shrine the Northumberland County home of Dr. Joseph Priestley, famous English scientist who discovered oxygen. The bill carried a $1,000 appropriation for the maintenance and development of the property and for this reason the governor vetoed it. The home itself would have been acquired from the Pennsylvania State College, whose property it now is, as a gift. The condition of state revenue does not warrant at this time the taking over of additional historical sites, the governor stated.

The greatest liquor monopoly in the country, the $80,000,000 state-controlled liquor system of Pennsylvania, is now being run by a dry. Fred T. Geller, of Forest City, N. Y., new chairman of the liquor control board, is a total abstainer. He is a former state senator and publisher of two newspapers. On one of which he was once employed as a newsboy.

There will be absentee balloting now in Pennsylvania, but only soldiers will be eligible to participate. Non-military men and women who happen to be away from home on election day will still be unable to vote. The legislature amended the election laws to permit soldiers away from home to register and vote by mail. Suggestions that this privilege be extended to all citizens, a procedure followed in many states, went unheeded.

enjoyed by all who attended. Later in the evening games were played. Committees for picnic were: Rose Munnell, Mrs. A. W. Smith, Pearl Kennedy, Violet Morrow, Annette Smith, Paul Updgraph and Tony Borzachillo.

MINTEER REUNION

Thirty-five attended the reunion of the Minteers, which was held on Saturday, July 27, at the Reformed Presbyterian church. Dinner and supper were served. In the afternoon games were played and enjoyed.

Officers elected were: Frank Minteer, president; Pete Weyrick, vice president; Irene Morrow, secretary-treasurer. The Minteer reunion will be held the third Saturday in July of next year, but the place will not be decided until later.

Cash Income Of Farmers In State Shows Increase

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—The gain in cash income of farmers from marketings during the first five months of this year was not quite so great in Pennsylvania as the country at large, the Department of Agriculture reports. Such income of Pennsylvania farmers totaled $106,424,000 in the first five months of 1940. It aggregated $117,667,000 in the corresponding period this year, an increase of $11,243,000, or 10 per cent. In the country as a whole, similar income gained 14 per cent.

In the Keystone State cash income from crops expanded slightly from $29,069,000 to $29,737,000. Income from livestock and livestock products gained from $77,355,000 to $87,930,000. Federal payments to Pennsylvania farmers participating in the soil conservation program dropped from $4,083,000 to $2,690,000.

Youngster Injured; Falls Off Billboard

Joseph Mastcko, aged 10, of 108 Terrace avenue, suffered lacerations of the head Saturday when he fell off a billboard erected on the corner of Moravia street and Terrace avenue.

The youth, who is confined to New Castle hospital, was walking across the billboard, according to reports received at the hospital. His condition is not believed to be serious.

U. S. Navy Notes Of Interest Here

The following named young men enlisted in the U. S. navy to serve during their minority and were sent to the U. S. naval training station, Newport, R. I., for six weeks instruction before being assigned to some unit of the fleet or one of the navy's vocational schools.

William James Stiller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Stiller, 425 Hillcrest avenue, Stiller was a former student at the George Washington junior high school and was employed at the Johnson Bronze Co. at the time of his enlistment.

William Arthur Boyd, 708 Erie avenue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Boyd, Boyd attended the Benjamin Franklin junior high school. William Albert Confer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Confer, 110 West Grant street, Confer was a student at the New Castle senior high school.

Ralph Edward Patton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Patton, Sandy Lake, Pa.

Henry Charles Throop, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Throop, 80 Oak street, Bensenville, was accepted for enlistment at Philadelphia in the U. S. naval aviation cadets and returned home to await the starting of a new class for elimination flight training at the naval reserve base, Philadelphia, Pa. The successful completion of this training will see young Throop headed for one of the navy's three great aviation training centers, Pensacola, Fla., Jacksonville, Fla., or Corpus Christi, Tex.

Throop, a graduate of Westminster college, class of '39, was a member of the Titan basketball team and also the center and captain of the 39 gridiron squad.

When enlisted Throop was employed in the blast furnace department of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., Youngstown.

With the establishment of new schools and the expansion of now-existing schools, the total capacity of all schools, including aviation for the training of enlisted men, has been increased from 3,180 to the present date. The total yearly capacity will be 18,324. The present yearly capacity will be increased to 27,924 in 1942.

The navy service school, Ford Motor company, Detroit, Mich., was established early this year with all equipment and buildings furnished by Henry Ford as a source of training for a number of enlisted men, including machinists' mates, electricians' mates, storekeepers, aviation machinists' mates, diesel engineers, metal smiths, etc. The school has now been expanded to a new quota of 1,600 students.

Mr. Ford is now building two additional barracks to take care of this increase, as well as a fully equipped recreation center, at no cost to the government.

The Navy Department is actively engaged in supporting the U. S. O. drive currently being conducted throughout the United States. Even though this drive is for the purpose of providing for navy personnel, as well as others of the defense forces, the navy is not satisfied without making its contribution to the fund to be used for this purpose. The secretary of the navy has authorized all ships and stations to permit solicitation for this drive, and solicitation is likewise proceeding within the Navy Department itself.

From the institution fund there was spent in the month of July $4,857.55, according to a statement prepared by County Controller Frank W. Hill. The money was spent for the following purposes:

General administration, $612.29; County home, $1,255.22; County farm, $171; County insane, $35.93; Outdoor relief, $2,186.05. Of this amount, $23,310 went to the Jameson Memorial hospital, $1,486.29 to the New Castle hospital, $225 for burials, and the rest divided among incidentals.

From the gasoline fund there was expended $32,460.71, but of this amount $24,000 was paid on bonds and $7,020 was for interest on bonds. Bridge maintenance cost $1,174.50. County aid to Union township amounted to $266.21.

Rehearsals for the huge pageant, "A Century of Democracy," which will cost 1,000 local citizens have attracted attention. The pageant will be presented Tuesday through Saturday evenings. Three parades, a centennial ball, picnics and other entertainments will be other highlights.

Centennial week will open Sunday, Aug. 24, with "Buhl Day," the Shenango Valley's annual observance of the birthday of the late Frank H. Buhl, the community's greatest benefactor.

RUBBER BOATS INCLUDED WITH R. A. F. PARACHUTES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Rubber boats included with parachute packs is the newest thing for Royal Air Force pilots, the Commerce Department reported today.

A pilot bailing out over water pulls two rip-cords, one releasing a parachute and the other a rubber dinghy which is inflated with a bottle of carbon monoxide gas. A small bellows also is in the pack, and the boat can be kept afloat for several days, the department said.

YOU CAN'T SEE HIM up there. You can scarcely hear the hum of his motors. Then his voice comes into the radio tower: "Headle—35,000 feet—diving now." And as he comes plummeting down in that shrieking power-dive, you just hope! Seconds later —yes, seconds—he's landing. And here he is (above) cool, calm, lighting up a Camel.

CAMEL'S EXTRA MILDNESS IS PLENTY OKAY WITH ME. I SURE GO FOR THAT FULL, RICH FLAVOR

"Less nicotine in the smoke means more mildness to me," says test pilot Marshall Headle (above), as he lights up his... and America's... favorite cigarette

THERE may be little traffic at 35,000 feet, but test-diving any new, untried plane is no Sunday joy-ride. No, not even for a veteran like Marshall Headle (above).

Naturally, cigarette mildness is important to Marshall Headle. And in the slower-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos... Camels... he gets extra mild-ness — with less nicotine in the smoke.

What cigarette are you smoking now? Chances are it's one of the five included in the nicotine tests reported above at the left—tests which trace Camel's advantage right down to the actual smoke itself. Obviously, the smoke's the thing! Try Camels. For convenience—economy—buy the carton.

Federal Aid Roads Are Built In State

State Had $5,184,248 Available For Federal Aid Roads On July 1

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 4.—Pennsylvania at the end of the last fiscal year on June 30 had available for new Federal-aid road and grade crossing projects a total of $5,184,248 in Federal funds, the Public Roads Administration reports.

Of this amount, $2,923,134 was for regular Federal-aid highways and $4,113 was for feeder and secondary roads. The residue of $2,219,999 was for grade crossing improvements.

During the fiscal year, Pennsylvania completed 106.6 miles of Federal-aid highways at a cost of $8,950,000. At the close of the year, 116.3 miles of such highway, estimated to cost $13,624,954, were under construction, and an additional 27.9 miles, estimated to cost $2,884,024 has been approved for construction.

The state completed 62.5 miles of feeder or secondary roads during the fiscal period. At the end of the year, 45.1 miles of such roads, estimated to cost $2,347,085, were under construction, and an additional 2.9 miles, estimated to cost $162,000, had been approved for construction.

Grade crossing projects completed during the year in Pennsylvania numbered 16 and cost $1,484,274. On June 30, 21 such projects, estimated to cost $3,114,763, were under construction, and an additional five costing $1,218,306, had been approved for construction.

The game of seven-up is said to lend itself most rapidly to cheating by card sharps of any game of cards.

New Wilmington Active; Has Some 800 Visitors

Visitors to New Wilmington these days might be pardoned for wondering if they had read the calendar correctly.

Strolling about the shady campus of Westminster college or the equally shady streets of the town are over 800 men and women, boys and girls, a condition which prevails in New Wilmington usually only during college terms.

The occasion is the thirty-sixth annual Missionary Conference of the United Presbyterian church, being held this week.

About 600 delegates and 150 leaders are present for a week's study and recreation, according to conference officials. These are housed in Browne Hall, Ferguson Hall, and other college buildings, as well as Camp Suegin and various private homes throughout the town. Camp

Suegin is a group of twenty tents accommodating a total of 200 boys erected on the athletic field of the college.

Sports of all kinds are a large part of the conference life. Football, volleyball, and swimming facilities are in great demand, and the annual tennis tournament will soon get underway. Rev. Paul Henderson, Pittsburgh and Wayne Christy, Pittsburgh, a Westminster college alumnus, are the recreational directors.

The majority of the delegates present are from Western Pennsylvania, but many states, as well as such foreign countries as India, Egypt, and various African colonies are represented.

Present at the conference are many distinguished leaders of the United Presbyterian church. Dr. Mills J. Taylor is the director.

St. Vitus Groups Have Outing Event

Mother Of Sorrow Society And L. C. B. A. Of St. Vitus Church Picnic At Park

One of the most enjoyable of summer events took place Sunday when members of the Mother of Sorrow society and the L. C. B. A. branch of the St. Vitus church gathered for the annual picnic event at Cascade park.

Several hundred were in attendance, including members and their families, and dinner and supper were served in the grove. At 3 o'clock games and other features got under way.

Tug of war winner included: Ralph Lambert, Catherine Mero, Caroline Aiello, Mrs. Elizabeth Cubellis and Mary Vericelli. The oldest person present was Mrs. Bridget Nasto; youngest, Mrs. Ida Fenati; fattest, Mrs. Rinda George; thinnest, Mrs. Maria Morganti and Mrs. Elizabeth Cubellis.

The balloon contest was won by Mrs. Clara Pia, and those having the largest families were Mrs. Mary Scungio and Mrs. Rachel Pascarella. Other prizes were won by Eugene Pascarella, Richard Serignese, Mary Jean Fregel, Camilla Mastrangelo, Josephine Lambert and Caroline Aiello.

Mrs. Clotilda Ross was chairman, and assisting were Mrs. Mabel Mastrangelo, Mrs. Mary E. Conti, Mrs. Lucy Lerner, Mrs. Marie Scungio, Mrs. Clara Colella, Mrs. Edith Fenati and Mrs. Concetta Leonardo.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Leon Henderson, federal price administrator, today announced that the F. B. I. and other government agencies have begun an investigation of the scrap iron and steel industry.

Henderson said that the probe had been started because hoarding of steel and scrap iron is threatening to curtail production in steel mills which have national defense orders totaling hundreds of millions.

Acting Attorney General Francis Biddle said he had "authorized the anti-trust division and the Federal Bureau of Investigation to begin immediately an investigation of possible violation of the anti-trust laws in the iron and steel industry."

The shortage in scrap is so serious that some steel mills may be forced to curtail operations within the next 10 days, it is said. About 55 per cent of the steel produced in the nation is made from pig iron, and the remainder is made from scrap.

The steel industry used approximately 30,000,000 tons of scrap in the first six months of the year, when the mills were operating at a rate of 82 million tons annually.

At present, according to best estimates, there will be a 25 per cent shortage in scrap in the last half of the year unless collections are increased.

Defense officials deny that shipment of scrap iron to Japan in the past few years has led to the shortage. On the other hand, they charge that large scrap dealers are hoarding.

Henderson, in asking for the federal investigation, suggested that if necessary, a grand jury be impaneled to aid in the probe.

In a letter to Biddle, Henderson declared that there are approximately 15 large brokers of scrap who supply approximately 90 per cent of junk iron and steel purchased by steel mills. The brokers obtain scrap from dealers who purchase from hard-dealers who in turn buy from smaller dealers such as corner junkyards.

"It is my understanding that certain of these brokers and dealers have subsidized secretly other dealers and subdealers, sometimes as many as a hundred or more," Henderson declared. "In this way a single broker has, in some instances, achieved a monopoly over all of the scrap produced in an entire region. This control over the supply of scrap has been utilized as a means for enhancing scrap prices."

Kills Wife And Bus Driver Then Attempts Suicide

Akron Man Goes Berserk With Gun, Two Others Are Wounded

(International News Service)
AKRON, O., Aug. 4.—A jealous husband, who shot and killed his wife and a bus driver and seriously wounded two others, lay near death today of self-inflicted bullet wounds while police awaited a chance to question him.

As authorities reconstructed the tragedy, Edward Hudson, 47-year-old machinist, followed his wife, Loretta, 38, to a bus stop Saturday afternoon. Friends of the couple said Mrs. Hudson left the machinist a week ago as a result of constant violent quarreling.

When Mrs. Hudson ran for the bus for protection, Hudson pulled a .32-caliber pistol from his pocket and started to fire wildly. Mrs. Hudson and Harold Klink, 38, a bus driver who was on his way to work, fell mortally wounded.

Another bus driver, Harry V. Stripes, 40, and Edward Robison, 18, who tried to overpower Hudson, were seriously wounded as Hudson broke away, still shooting, and fled in his automobile. When cornered by police, he fired a bullet in his heart rather than surrender.

British Subs In Mediterranean Cause Damage

Possible Destruction Of Modern Italian Cruiser Is Reported By London

(International News Service)

LONDON, August 4.—Intensified British submarine activity in the Mediterranean was credited today with damage to or possible destruction of a modern Italian cruiser and the sinking of two Axis supply ships, along with a crippling blow at a huge floating dock.

A 7,383-ton cruiser, either the Eugenio di Savoia or the Emanuele Duca d'Aosta, was declared to have been hit by two torpedoes fired from a British submarine.

In addition, the admiralty announced, two Axis supply ships torpedoed and sunk displaced 6,000 and 1,600 tons respectively.

Still another submarine was said to have scored at least one torpedo hit on a floating dock only a mile off the Italian coast.

An official Cairo announcement reported the heaviest British air assault on Crete since the Mediterranean island was captured last spring by the Germans. Huge explosions and great fires were said to have been caused by R. A. F. raids on the airdromes at Candia and Maleme.

East Brook Camp Period Is Closed

Last Few Days Are Among Busiest Of Entire Y. W. C. A. Camp Program

East Brook camping, of the 1941 variety, came to a most successful close Saturday. The last two days were undoubtedly the busiest and most highlighted ones of the period.

Following rest hour Friday afternoon, the girls gathered about the archery range to witness the final, spirited contest. After each of the nine contestants slowly aimed and shot at the target she was encouraged with hearty applause from the group. Pat Kradol, Sarah McDaniel and Emily McLennan brought the White team to victory with 97 points.

While the girls hurried off for a free swim, "Kit" and "Scottie" added up the points acquired by the red, white and blue teams throughout the two weeks, to determine the winning team. With the desired information at hand they proceeded to rearrange the dining room tables in banquet style. The speakers' table was resplendent in red, while the remaining tables were marked with blue and white. Other patriotic decorations about the camp made a most colorful setting for the evening's victory dinner.

At 5:30 the teams filed into the dining room and found their respective places. There was a round of lively singing between bites of tempting food. At the close of this "Kit" arose and commended the teams on their fine spirit and sportsmanship. She then announced the red team, composed of the Mahoning and Harbor cabins, as the winner. "Scottie" presented each member of this team with a blue felt athletic emblem. Archery having proved to be a most welcome addition to camp this year, a final award was then made. "Kit" presented a pen-knife engraved loving cup to Sarah McDaniel, individual high scorer in the afternoon meet.

Following dinner 18 campers and three counselors, "Panuche", "Scottie" and "Chirp", strapped their packs on their backs and started out for an overnight hike. Upon arrival at their destination, the wood gatherers, headed by "PePe" Hugh, collected and assorted branches and twigs, while the fire builders, headed by Leslie Hayes, made a grand campfire. The red rolls were then placed around the fire. When everyone was comfortably situated, the group enjoyed singing under the stars. Six girls then took part in a worship service which was followed by a campfire wishing ceremony. The campers arose at 5:30 to watch the cooks, under the direction of "Caddie" Wallace, go into action. After the bacon and eggs were devoured, the hikers returned to camp in time to join in on the packing and cleaning fun.

Those who stayed in camp Friday evening enjoyed a mullish game and evening swim. "Dottie" Wallace then led them in an impressive candlelight service before retiring.

With everything in tip-top shape, after the Saturday morning cleaning, the afternoon was given over to the water pageant, "How Swimming Grew Up", directed by "Skipper" and "Splash". Leading parts were taken by Betty Boyd, as Neptune, Jane Pitzer, as Davy Jones, Rosemary Relph, as the janitor, and Phil Barry, as the instructor. The pageant was very well received.

The girls left camp in the midst of baggage-toting, autographing, final snapshots and farewells. "Twink", Mrs. George Bloom, was audibly and silently praised, as the girls departed, for her part in making the camping period such a highly successful one.

Little Hardship By Gas Curfew

Western Pennsylvania District Generally Observes Closing Regulation

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH Aug. 4.—Motorists today were reported to have survived the 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. gasoline curfew in western Pennsylvania with little if any hardship.

In fact, gas stations throughout the area reported that daytime purchases of gas had greatly increased as drivers stocked up "just in case." Some of the motorists even brought five and ten gallon containers with them for reserves.

Throughout the western Pennsylvania area, a brief check-up showed, most gasoline stations were completely "blackout" last night insofar as sales to motorists were concerned. Some large stations remained open, however, to supply fuel to defense trucking and to sell other merchandise.

Miss Rose Isenberg, 24, a registered nurse was driving to Clearfield when she ran out of gas. Unable to obtain any because of the curfew, she finally went to a police station where two gallons were secured for her.

Perhaps typical of the reaction to the closing of the gas stations was one sign which read: "Gasoline Gus says: They say that all the gas stations will be closed after seven p. m.—Gosh how we hate Hitler!"

'Blind Alley' Off Until Later Date

Illness of a cast member will temporarily postpone Tuesday night's scheduled opening of the Provincial Playhouse play, "Blind Alley," in Cascade theater at Cascade Park.

James W. Sotus, director of the Playhouse, announced this morning. The show was to have been given on four nights, commencing tomorrow night. Definite dates will be announced Tuesday night, Sotus said.

Proposed Credit Curbs Would Hit Millions

By WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Proposed curbs on installment buying—now the subject of separate studies by the Federal Reserve Board and the office of price administration and civilian supply—would affect more than 6,000,000 American families, a survey showed today.

Those families are purchasing automobiles, furniture, clothes, household appliances and jewelry on time.

In addition, if the curbs are extended to require tightening of credit extended by small loan companies, more than 7,000,000 other persons would be hit.

Best estimates among defense officials are that the curbs will be put into effect within the next 30 days, if they are not written into the price control bill now before Congress.

Federal reserve board officials are in agreement that there must be some general tightening of credit to prevent inflationary prices now, and to cushion the post-defense boom era.

Larger down payments will be demanded, along with a shortening of the periods during which balances are paid off.

Installment buying accounts for about 11 per cent of all retail sales, now running at a rate of more than $45,000,000,000 a year. At the end of 1940 the retail installment debts of Americans totaled more than $3,100,000,000. In addition, Americans owed small cash loan agencies some $2,000,000,000.

The distribution of the installment debt at the end of last year was: automobiles, 60 per cent; department stores, 9 per cent; furniture stores, 14 per cent; household appliances, 8 per cent; jewelry stores, two per cent; all other stores, eight per cent.

Families with incomes under $1,000 a year do 26 per cent of the installment buying, families with incomes of $1,000 to $2,000 do 40 per cent of the buying, and families with income above the latter figure about 27 per cent of time-payment purchases.

Reports reaching defense officials and banking agencies say that many retail and credit agencies already are tightening up installment terms. However, equally as many are liberalizing terms in the hope to attract business from those just now finding employment because of the defense boom.

Finn's Have Handicaps In Leningrad Advance

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HELSINKI, Finland, Aug. 4.—Nature is serving today as Soviet Premier Josef Stalin's big ally in keeping the Finns at bay by compelling them to advance step by step through seemingly endless pine woods, lakes and other obstacles such as have scarcely ever impeded troops in war-time.

I landed on Finland's east coast from Germany aboard a twin-motored Douglas plane and then drove across Finland's granary—depopulated of virtually all men of fighting age—to Helsinki.

And I awoke at dawn to hear the air raid sirens screeching, although no Russian planes actually appeared.

Helsinki itself has scarcely been scratched by aerial attackers in the present conflict, although the Finnish capital has experienced as many as eight alarms a day.

When I talked later with a Finnish army officer, he expressed astonishment at my expectations of marching into Leningrad during the next few days. He pointed out that difficult, heavily defended, Soviet territory still must be conquered before this could happen, particularly in the Viborg region and along the Karelian bottleneck.

On the far (eastward) side of Lake Ladoga, it was stated, is a long, roadless path leading to the anticipated junction with the German troops now making their way up from Lake Ilmen to close the German-Finnish half-circle around Leningrad.

In view of this situation, Finnish officers expressed belief that the Germans will reach Leningrad first via the more easily traversable southern approaches, where they are now hammering Leningrad's outskirts with artillery fire.

Meanwhile, this country's war of revenge against Russia is rooted deep in the heart of every Finn.

Everyone that I have talked with here says it is "now or never" and that "everything else must wait."

They pointed out that in almost every village and hamlet families are mourning soldiers who were killed during the war of 1939-40 and whose deaths must be avenged.

Now, as the new conflict finds Finland a partner of Germany, Finland appears calm. On the land women are doing most of the work of harvesting, since every man who can be spared is at the fighting front.

There is sufficient food in Finland although rationing is partially in force. Nightingale blackouts commenced yesterday.

The British air raid on Petsamo, Finland's northern Arctic port, has aroused considerable indignation and there are indications that this raid as much as anything else may cement Finland with the Axis powers.

Rev. Estep Is Next Conference Speaker

The largest crowds since the opening of the sixth annual Bible Conference attended the three sessions conducted at the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle on Sunday, according to reports made by the pastor, R. J. Fredericks.

The audiences included friends from Youngstown, Mercer, Butler, Beaver Falls, New Brighton, Ellwood City and other nearby communities.

Rev. Marmion L. Lowe, of Bible School Park, was the principal speaker, using as his sermon subjects, "Christianity, a Youth Movement," "The Seventy Weeks of Daniel the Prophet" and "Will Hitler Win? Is He the Anti-Christ?"

Tonight is rest night at the evangelistic center. The next speaker to appear from Tuesday evening through Sunday, August 10, will be Rev. D. B. Estep, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church, Covington, Ky. He will be heard nightly at 7:30 o'clock.

British Have Rescue System

Speed To Rescue Of Any Pilot Shot Down In English Channel

ELABORATE PLANS ARE IN OPERATION

By FRANK BUTLER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

SOUTH EAST ENGLAND, Aug. 4.—Soon the official story of the battle from Britain, now raging above the long stretch of French coastline, often penetrating 50 or 60 miles inland over German occupied airfields, will have to be told.

This thrilling all-in sky sequel which will put the Battle of Britain out-of-date, should be England's best seller this year. It will feature, I am sure, the carefully worked out radio plans the Royal Air Force are operating so that not one British pilot shot down in the English Channel shall be drowned through lack of speed in reaching him.

Planes are not being spared when precious seconds may save a British pilot's life. It is reckoned that Germany could have prevented more than fifty per cent of her huge losses in the greatest air battle of history with the method now used by British life-saving squads.

Wireless is again Britain's ally in this plan to cut out losses of pilots brought down in the Channel. Wireless linking up the slow-moving Lysander plane directly with the high-speed crash boats, which is so important now that Britain has survived the body blows, and punches delivered below the plimsote-line handed out by the Germans last year, and is now attacking her opponent in his own corner.

More and more of these almost clumsy-looking Lysanders have been appearing over the South-East coast of England recently, and the general question is, "Why on earth are we using so many of these awkward-looking out-of-date machines?" But the Lysander—"Lizzy" she is nicknamed by the high-speed Spitfire and Hurricane pilots—normally an army cooperation plane used mainly for reconnaissance and spotting flights, is playing a big part in the rescuing of crashed British pilots.

When the RAF launch their night and day raids across the Channel the Lysanders stand-by. Immediately a report is received that a British plane is down, Lizzy takes off with an escort of Spitfires or Hurricanes—further proof of how seriously Britain is tackling the job.

No matter how near to the French coast, the Lysander makes this journey saving pilots on the enemy's doorstep. She is at the spot within a few minutes, and immediately the Lysander spots the pilot in the water it contacts the crash-boat supplying the exact direction to make for.

The Lysander pilot then drops a rubber dingy and paddles and turns back to meet the rescue boat guiding it without a second's loss to the pilot now floating in a rubber boat. Often the Lysander and its escort is challenged by Messerschmitts and they may manage to down a couple of German planes before carrying out their task.

The British boats often have to make within a few miles of the French coast under fire of German shore batteries. Irreplaceable pilots have already been saved through these daring rescue raids, and it is reckoned that hundreds more will be saved during the coming year.

Anything from thirty to forty minutes can be saved as the rescue boats are well on their way to the spot by the time the Lysander has dropped its rescue gear and is returning to meet them.

The reason, the Lysander is so important for this task is because of its size and acrobatic performance. She can carry gear which a Spitfire or Hurricane cannot. Parrels are released from her bomb-rack and although she is slow she is well armed and is a difficult target to pin down.

CARTOON COMES TO LIFE (International News Service)

GREELEY, Colo.—A heavy hammer hung by Frank Barta of Greeley on the wall of his workshop started a strange chain of "Rube Goldberg" circumstances that resulted in the shop being set afire. The hammer dropped to the work bench, igniting a box of matches. The matches set fire to a can of paint, which spread to a pile of soaked rags. The rags, in turn, set the workshop partition ablaze. Barta called the fire department, but before they arrived he had put out the blaze with a pail of water.

Relief Rolls Show Increase

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Aug. 4.—Pennsylvania's relief rolls increased by more than 2,000 persons for the week ending July 26, Secretary of Public Assistance Howard L. Russell announced today, attributing the rise to recent cuts in WPA employment.

At the end of the week, Russell said, there were 207,595 persons receiving relief from the state. Expenditures for grants to needy families totaled $504,726.

Largest relief increases were in Schuylkill, Allegheny and Luzerne counties.

FAYETTE 4-H CLUB

Members of the 4-H club of Fayette met at the home of Irene Cornelius, Friday afternoon.

"God Bless America," led by Shirley Sipe, opened the meeting. Work was continued on slips, to be shown by the club at the county fair.

Games were played, and a delightful lunch was served by the hostess and her mother, Mrs. Jess Cornelius.

Next meeting will be at the home of Dorothy Shearer, on Friday, August 8, at 7:30 o'clock.

NEW ARMY OFFICE (International News Service)

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y.—The new army moves fast—sometimes a little too fast for the ordinary citizen. The new titles used in the army these days have him all confused. A letter arrived in the office of the Mitchell Field public relations officer and he was momentarily stunned to note it was addressed to the "Public Religious Officer."

Executive Board Will Have Picnic

Executive board of the Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union will have a picnic supper Thursday evening, August 7, at 6:30 o'clock at the Burnhough cottage, Cottage Grove.

A special feature of the business meeting, following the picnic, will be echoes from the Atlantic City convention held recently. Stress will be placed on the Summer Assembly to be held at Wilson college, Chambersburg, August 15, 16 and 17.

3 WAYS TO GET A $100 LOAN

How to borrow cash quickly and simply and repay in monthly installments which fit your own income

Can you make good use of $100? Investigate our loan plans to-day. Household Finance offers three simple ways for you to borrow up to $300. Your loan will be made the way which best suits your own situation.

1. Signature loans. No security needed. These loans are made under proper conditions, to both single persons and married couples.

2. Auto loans. A loan on your car may best fit your needs.

3. Furniture loans. Here character and regular income are far more important than the value of your security. Many borrowers use this plan.

No endorsers needed

Whichever way you borrow, it is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get the loan you need simply, privately and speedily.

Borrow for less

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge substantially more than this. Some finance companies do charge a higher rate. It's good business to compare rates before you borrow.

If you need money, here's what to do. Come to Household. Or just phone and say you need a loan. We're here to serve you. Phone or visit us today without obligation.

President Cruises Off Coast Of New England

Seeks Rest From Strenuous Tasks

Details Of Cruise Are Kept Secret—Started From New London, Conn.

MAY CONTACT NEUTRALITY PATROL

By GEORGE DUNNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 4.—President Roosevelt was cruising off the New England coast today, possibly headed for a "look-see" at operations of the Atlantic neutrality patrol which he recently charged with responsibility for safe conduct of war supplies to Britain.

The vacation cruise of the President aboard his White House yacht Potomac was heavily cloaked in naval secrecy. It was left up to those remaining ashore to assume that Mr. Roosevelt might contact Rear Admiral Ernest King, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, some time during the ensuing week for a first-hand report on clearance of the North Atlantic seaplanes.

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early had joined in warning both press and radio that movements of the U. S. S. Potomac must be considered as a naval operation and subject to previously agreed upon voluntary censorship.

Seeks "Sea Air"

There was no mistaking last night when the President boarded his yacht at the New London, Conn., submarine base, that he looked forward to "sea air" and "cool nights."

Strain of the past few hectic weeks showed on the President's face. While watching intently the progress of the European war, the Chief Executive had thrown a series of uncompromising gestures at Japan, and most lately a warning to the French Vichy government that it was becoming too closely aligned with Nazi Germany to fit into the American scheme of affairs.

With these swift-moving power movements behind him, the President boarded his yacht last night and put out to sea on what he described as an hour-by-hour cruise. The presidential special train was standing by at a central New England terminal, ready to speed into any port should an international crisis call Mr. Roosevelt back from his vacation cruise.

Acting Secretary William D. Hassett, and Dewey Long, White House communications chief, were under order to start an emergency movement into Washington if any unexpected development cropped up.

Asked To Ration Hosiery Purchases

Women Query "What Are We Ever Going To Do Without Silk Stockings?"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The topic of conversation among American women—from housemaids to debutantes—today was:

"What are we ever going to do without silk stockings?"

Fear that the average woman would attempt to solve her own problem by rushing to the nearest store for a half dozen or dozen pairs of hose led the office of production management to issue an appeal against hoarding.

As department stores in Washington and other eastern cities reported sharply increased hosiery sales, Associate Price Control Administrator Harriett Elliott announced:

"In the interests of fair play, I am asking all consumers to voluntarily ration their hosiery purchases—that is, to buy only for current use—in order to give those consumers with limited incomes an opportunity to share in the available supply."

That the silk stock situation has reached a critical stage was demonstrated through the issuance of an order by the O. P. M. directing mills to cease all silk goods manufacture.

Meanwhile, Miss Elliott warned women against paying higher prices. "Such price rises are attempts to take unfair advantage of the national emergency and should be reported to me if they occur," she said.

Miss Elliott offered four rules for conserving stockings:

- 1—Wash them immediately after wearing.
- 2—Use lukewarm suds and press gently, don't rub.
- 3—Dry in shade; sunlight deteriorates silk.
- 4—Always carry colorless nail polish and put drop at top and bottom of run as soon as it starts.

U. S. Population Gain Is Revealed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The Census Bureau estimated today that the nation's population increased 915,647 in the last nine months of 1940 and totaled 132,584,922 on January 1, 1941.

The population of the continental United States on April 1, 1940, when the last census was taken, was 131,669,273.

Since then, birth, death and immigration statistics have indicated an average growth of 162,000 per month. In the last 10 years, the average gain was 74,000 a month. Part of the fast gain was due to the fact that immigration brought in about 9,000 persons a month last year, compared with a net loss from immigration in the last decade. The remainder was due to a higher birth rate.

No forecast was made of future population.

Spurned Love Causes Slaying

MARY KOZENKA AND WILLIAM GRAHAM

After finding the bullet-riddled body of attractive Mary Kozenka, 28, in the basement of her suitor's home, Chicago police claim a confession from William Graham, 41, which states that he shot her five times in his automobile after she had refused his proposal of marriage. Graham said he intended killing himself after shooting her but was apprehended too soon by the police.

Scarcity Of WPA Labor May Cancel Paving Jobs Here

Portions Of Ashland And Wabash Avenues Were In Summer Paving Program

With the present scarcity of W. P. A. labor, it appears as though the scheduled paving of two Mahoningtown streets this summer will have to be cancelled.

When the paving program was mapped out for the W. P. A. for this year, Ashland avenue, between Swansea and Wildwood avenues, and Wabash avenue, between Liberty and Second streets were included.

With the sharp increase in private industry, the W. P. A. rolls took quite a decline, and it is almost impossible to find skilled workmen in the W. P. A. ranks at the present time.

New Scoutmaster Is Veteran Scout

Jack Hainsworth, Eagle Scout, Has Been In Organization Over Five Years

Jack Hainsworth, 29, of West Pittsburg, is a veteran Boy Scout, and is quite experienced for his new job of scoutmaster of Mahoningtown Boy Scout Troop 4.

Hainsworth has been in Scouting five years and four months, and has attained the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest attainable by a Scout. He formerly served as assistant scoutmaster of West Pittsburg Troop 1 and Wampum Troop 1, and for three years was scoutmaster of West Pittsburg Troop 4.

The new Scoutmaster takes the place of Wilfred Paul who resigned sometime ago.

J. B. Brettell Enroute To Coast

Capt. John B. Brettell, North Cedar street, is en route to the West Coast, where he will board an army transport on Thursday for the Philippine Islands.

Captain Brettell just concluded a furlough at his home here. He was transferred last week from Camp Holabird, Md., to his new post in the Philippines.

TRIANGLE SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Triangle Missionary society members of the Madison Avenue Christian church held a meeting at the home of Margaret Louise and Glena Mae McCracken, Harlansburg road, August 1.

Business meeting was in charge of Norma Lee Fulton, and the following officers were elected: president, Barbara Johnson; vice president, Norma Evans; secretary, Betty Getting; and treasurer, Norma Lee Fulton.

Following group leaders were also named: Norma Evans, Bernice Ringer, Dorothy Hall and Dorothy Douds.

The devotional period was featured by a talk about the Cleveland Christian Children's Home, given by Sue Park. At the close of the meeting the members were taken to the yard at the McCracken home where a wiener and marshmallow roast was enjoyed about a big bonfire. Mrs. Leslie McCracken and Mrs. Stewart Hunt aided the hostesses in serving.

Next meeting is scheduled for September 5 at the home of Bernice Ringer, North Cedar street.

CHOIR MEETING

Choir of the Madison Avenue Christian church will have a meeting in the church on Wednesday evening.

the Madison Avenue Christian church, aided in conducting the service. A good sized crowd attended the service.

The regular union meeting next week will be held at the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church with Mr. Smith delivering the sermon.

CLASS GOING TO PYMATUNING LAKE

Friday, members of the Women's Missionary society of the Madison Avenue Christian church will have an all day outing and picnic at the summer home of Mrs. W. W. Wald on the east side of Pymatuning lake.

The group will leave the church on West Madison avenue at 9 o'clock.

COLUMBUS AUXILIARY
There will be a regular meeting of the Christopher Columbus Auxiliary on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the club rooms, North Liberty street, the president, Mrs. Stella Lombardo, announced today.

THEATER MISSED

Many Mahoningtown people greatly miss the Crescent theater that was damaged by fire sometime ago. Remodeling work on the theater is going ahead rapidly, and it is believed that it will be open about September 1.

CLASS TO PICNIC

Members of the Berean class of the Madison Avenue Christian church will have a picnic at the home of Stewart Hunt, Harlansburg road, on Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

RECORD PEACH CROP

(International News Service)
LANSING, Mich. — Michigan's peach crop this year may break all records, according to V. H. Church, state senior agriculture statistician.

The indicated production of 2,580,000 bushels is 54 per cent larger than the 1940 crop and 48 per cent above the 10-year average, he reported.

Report British Troops Massed At Thailand

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 4.—While there was no confirmation in authoritative British military quarters, reports from Saigon, French Indo-China, said today that 100,000 British troops are massing in Burma and Malaya along the borders of Thailand.

Neutral quarters in London said such concentrations would be an "obvious British precautionary measure" in view of the present explosive Japanese-Thailand situation.

But what is the advantage of rapid-fire guns if our fighting men must stop after each shot to report to Congress?

Mechanical Men Feed And House Soldiers Of U. S.

Fool-Proof Machines Keep
Check On Needs Of Men In Camp

EVEN CORRECT
HUMAN ERRORS

By ED NEWMAN

WASHINGTON, August 4. — A small army of electrically-operated "mechanical men" is a prime factor in feeding, housing clothing, and transporting a million and a half soldiers, the war department revealed recently.

In service with the Washington office and 15 supply depots of the quartermaster corps, the machines, which operate through a method of card-punching, are used to solve problems of supply so that the quartermaster-general has an up-to-the-minute check on the vital items available for each army unit, and the items needed in the future.

The machines are not only fool-proof and error-proof, but can multiply a factor which is in four decimal places and get an answer in whole numbers, by dropping fractions of less than a half and picking up fractions of more than a half. What is more, if the machine attendant errs in placing the cards on the rack, the cards are placed in the machine in accordance with the type of punching, writing, or figuring desired, a red light flashes and the machine stops.

Computes Supply Needs

By means of these machines, the quartermaster computes the exact supply requirements of any army unit, from a 12-man squad to a 53,000 man field army. The machines work so fast that one five-machine unit can do in one day the work it would take a week for 15 persons to do by hand. Such a speedup has been immediately necessary by constant shifting of large bodies of troops.

Each of the 15 quartermaster supply depots maintains punch card records, showing the state of its own supplies. Duplicates of these records are sent weekly to the corps headquarters in Washington, where they are consolidated. The cards bear information on quantity of stock with respect to each item due at the depot; the quantity of stock due out to posts, camps, and stations that cannot be immediately supplied; the amount of stock immediately available; and the amount of stock issued since the first of the year.

Once the cards have been consolidated, the status of all of the 69,000 items with which the quartermaster corps supplies the army is evident. This compares with the annual detailed report made before the machines were put to work, and the old monthly inventory of special classes.

Although the machines now figure only quantities of certain items, they will probably soon be showing the weight and cubic space occupied by each item, according to the war department.

Typical Machine Unit

The typical machine unit comprises a key punch, a multiplier, an interpreter, and an alphabetical accounting machine. The key puncher produces 2,000 cards a day, the multiplier which computes monthly maintenance requirements for a given army unit, 19 cards a minute, and the alphabetical interpreter, which converts the information represented by the holes in the cards into printed matter, 60 cards a minute.

An automatic sorting machine works at the rate of 400 cards a minute, and finally, the alphabetical accounting machine tabulates the information.

Stationed at what otherwise might be bottlenecks in the line of defense production, machine units thus do their part in supplying America's growing army.

Electrical Workers And Families Picnic

Four County Picnic Takes Place
At Neshannock Falls
Park

The fourth annual picnic of the Ecclesian club took place on Sunday at Neshannock Falls, with a large crowd in attendance, it being a most successful outing event.

A good time was had by all, and sports events and contests were played, with prizes being distributed. A basket picnic was served later.

Those winning awards were: Don Fre, Kathryn Guinagh, Richard Panella, Florence Schweikert, Anthony Panella, Mildred Felasco, Victor Ross, Dorothy Guinagh, Charles Kelley, Richard Basile, Vivian Fee, Tom Houston, Don Welsimer and Joe Ross.

A mousball game was played between the single and married men, the single men winning, 9 to 8. Horseshoe contest was played after supper. Champions Paul Schweikert and Joseph Factor defeated Rev. Fr. Edmund Rowan and Rev. Fr. Peter M. Schirra. In mousball the home run was made by Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, several good catches were made by Father Schirra and good hitting was by Mike King.

AGED WOMAN HAS SHOULDER INJURED

Mrs. Marie Richardson, aged 76, of R. F. D. No. 6 was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 11 o'clock Sunday night suffering from a dislocation of the left shoulder.

She was walking in front of Waldman's Market on East Washington street when she tripped and fell.

Real Problem Is Before Council

Pay Question Depends Upon
Whether U. S. Is At War
Or Contemplates War

Inasmuch as Mrs. Dent Shields, wife of Police Sergeant Dent Shields has requested council to grant her one-half the salary paid her husband, a police sergeant, now on active duty with the U. S. navy, the solons must decide whether the U. S. contemplates war or is now engaged in war. Upon their decision rests whether or not she will receive compensation.

Solicitor Robert White pointed out in a communication to council today that the law of June, 1917, provides that whenever any appointive officer or employee regularly employed by any municipality shall in time of war or contemplated war, enlist, enroll or be drafted, he shall not be considered as having abandoned his job and a substitute is to be named.

The law also provides, according to Solicitor White, that such a person can, when he has enlisted, file with the chief of his department a notice to such effect and in the report set forth his dependents and request and direct that one half of the wage of his employment (not exceeding 2,000 per annum) shall be paid during his military or naval service to his wife.

White contended that before the foregoing provisions are complied with the council must determine and declare that "this is in time of war or contemplated war."

"I don't know how the council is going to determine whether or not this country contemplates going to war but I presume that whatever judgment you arrive at on that subject would be final whether it would prove eventually that you had guessed right or not."

"If you decide that this is a time of contemplated war or actual war, you would then have to determine whether or not Mrs. Shields is actually dependent upon her husband and if she is, she would be entitled to receive one half his wage."

"Before this compensation to her could be finally paid, however, I think it would be necessary for him to file a written statement under oath as required by law" White declared. The problem was referred to committee for a decision later.

St. Mary's Alumni Picnic Successful

Basket Picnic For Member Of
St. Mary's Alumni Association
At Lakewood

Old acquaintances were renewed and a good time was had by all, when members of the St. Mary's Alumni association gathered for their picnic reunion held at Lakewood, on Sunday.

At 1 o'clock, a delicious lunch was served in the grove. Following the sports activities got under way, with a mousball game being played between the single and married men. The single men winning, score 6 to 5. The married men won the tug-of-war and the single girls won their contest.

Other games and contests were featured, and those winning high prizes were Betty Eckelberger, Esther Chell, Rev. Fr. Raymond A. Must, Bernard Carling, sub-deacon; Mary Louise Griffith, Charles Capitola, Betty Hannon, Jim Howley, Jack Taylor, Stanley Fiedasz, Joe Hanlon, Gertrude Paul, Thomas Gilroy received a special prize.

Boating, dancing and other diversions were featured, and in the evening, a wiener roast was held. Special guests attending were Rev. Fr. William F. Galvin, of St. Mary's, and Rev. Fr. Raymond A. Must, of St. Joseph's church, New Kensington, and Bernard Carlin.

General chairman was Ralph Reider, and committeemen are: Betty Callahan, financial; Marie Hanlon, entertainment; James Chell, sport; Robert Joyce, sports; Mary Elizabeth Logan, food; Dorothy Denecan, location; Ann Lucille Barnes, transportation.

A picnic will be held next year, and the next regular meeting will be on Friday evening, August 8, at 8 o'clock, in the church basement.

Nurses To Attend Catholic Session

Session Is Now In Progress At
William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, This Week

Sister M. Seraphine and Martha Acker of the New Castle hospital will attend the Catholic Action Summer session held at the William Penn hotel, in Pittsburgh, this week, August 4 to August 9.

Sister Seraphine was instructor in Catholic Action during the second semester of last year and will conduct the course during the coming year.

Miss Acker is chairman of the committee on Religious activities. She will direct the religious activities of the Sodality during the coming year.

TO SECURE POOL PLANS

When city council convened formally in the municipal building today the Parks commission recommended council expend $120,000 for plans for a proposed 20x40 foot bathing pool to be located in Dean Park. The request was referred to committee for consideration. The proposed pool would cost approximately $5,000, it was reported.

LIGHTER-THAN-AIR CRAFT HELP U. S. NAVY PATROL ATLANTIC

Three blimps ride at their mooring towers

Blimp hovers over freighter for inspection

Operations officers at Lakehurst keep track of blimp fleet

Ground crew members hang onto a ground rope, awaiting the order, "Up ship."

The United States navy now is employing a fleet of lighter-than-air craft in its Atlantic patrol, and more are on order. Such craft are once again in favor after virtual eclipse due to the tragedies of the giant dirigibles—the Shenandoah, Akron, Macon and Hindenburg. The navy's blimps, shown on duty in the pictures above, have many advantages over airplanes. They furnish a steadier platform from a hovering blimp than from a speeding plane, and they can hover for hours over a surface ship. Scores of officers and men are undergoing training at the blimp base, Lakehurst, N. J., for duty in the new blimps that have been ordered.

Janitor's Room Serves Parson For Marriages

ST. LOUIS—Sandwiched between piles of mops, dust cloths and old clothes, the Rev. William H. Pearson, Negro "marrying parson" at St. Louis City Hall for 32 years continues to tie the marital knots in spite of his advanced age of 82 years.

He was ousted from his old stand in the basement of the building, where his desk and "elbow room to marry" were rent free and was banished to a narrow janitor's room.

The Rev. Pearson paused in his daily round of marriage ceremonies long enough to remark that he was a little crowded in his new quarters. He said mildly, waving at the mountain of refuse in his "office," "Is that any atmosphere in which to embark on a marriage career?"

But the "parson's" dissatisfaction was temporary. He charges from $1 to $2 per couple and averages about $50 monthly. His overhead is insignificant and, in his words, "the work is easy."

The Rev. Pearson is an ordained Evangelist of the African Methodist Episcopal church.

Word has been received by relatives here of the birth of a daughter on July 31 to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Scott McCleary, former local residents, of Clairton, in Magee hospital, Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. David Ricks and son John, of Indiana, Pa., were weekend guests of Dr. and Mrs. Travis French of Wallace avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Ricks will be remembered as former residents here.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Leslie of Huron avenue, accompanied by their son, Henry, and wife of Pittsburgh, have returned from a fishing trip in the Allegheny river in the mountains. They were gone a week.

Miss Nancie Underwood, 201 East Laurel avenue, has returned home from a vacation spent at Port Washington, L. I., at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Victor N. Underwood.

Mrs. Albert Moss, of Cleveland, O., a former resident here, has recovered sufficiently from a recent operation to be moved from the New Castle hospital to the home of her mother, Mrs. C. E. Bell, on Madison avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Stitzinger, of Edgewood avenue, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Stitzinger, Jr., and son, Ernest L. Stitzinger, III, of Berger Place, have returned from a vacation at Wildwood Crest, N. J.

The Misses Gloria and Amelia Augustine of 19 Home street, Betty Francis, Jessie Fehl of Hazelcroft avenue and Phyllis Scungio of Latifon street have departed for Atlantic City where they will spend a week. They expect to return next Monday.

Friends of Mrs. Richard Williams, a former local resident, will be interested to learn that she has recovered sufficiently from a recent major operation to be moved from the North Side hospital, in Youngstown, to her home, 217 East Main street, Girard, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clark, South Ray street; Al R. Turner, Boyles avenue; Claude M. Patton, Young street; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Whitting, North Mercer street; Walter J. Niece, Hillcrest avenue; Mrs. W. H. Grove, Edison avenue; Mrs. Kenneth E. Smith, Maryland avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Hammond, East Leasure avenue, were at the recent Sandy Lake Old Times' reunion.

Western Pennsylvania Has Numerous Fatal Mishaps Over Week-End

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 4.—Western Pennsylvania's highway death toll over the week-end grew to four today in the death of Raymond Gruback, 18, of Ross township.

The youth died in Allegheny General hospital early today as the result of injuries sustained when his motorcycle collided with an automobile on the Steubenville Pike near Imperial.

Twelve miles east of Somerset on the turnpike, George P. Kosevic, Steulton, 22, was killed almost instantly when the car in which he was riding struck the rear of a truck tractor. Louis Secker, also of Steulton, suffered a compound fracture of the left leg. Two others were treated for minor injuries. Damage was estimated at about $1,000.

John Lake, 22, a private in troop E third cavalry at Fort Myers, Va., was killed when the motorcycle on which he was riding overturned ten miles east of New Castle. His companion, Corporal Donald J. Watts, was badly injured.

Another motorcycle fatality was recorded when Mrs. Wilda Couch, 24, Lynchburg, died of injuries sustained when the motorcycle on which she was riding with her husband upset near their home. Her husband, James, 23, was seriously injured.

ANSWER THREE
ALARMS SUNDAY
Firemen were called out three times Sunday for minor fires.

At 7:35 p. m. Sunday, they were called to 117 West Washington street, where a small fire was found on the roof of this structure, which is a vacant one-story building.

At 10:35 p. m. a false alarm from Box 515 summoned firemen to East Long avenue.

At 11:55 p. m. Sunday, a short in the battery cable of an auto owned by the Ellwood City garage, called firemen to East Washington street. Damage of around $5 was done.

McKnight Tells Story Of Zam Zam Sinking By German Raiders

Among the more than 800 delegates and leaders to the thirty-sixth annual U. P. Missionary Conference now being held at New Wilmington, is J. P. McKnight, who was a passenger aboard the ill-fated Egyptian liner, "Zam-Zam," which was shelled and sunk by a German raider on the 17th of April, 1941.

Mr. McKnight, who was formerly a resident of East Brook, was returning to the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, where he has been a missionary in the field of agricultural education since 1922, when the sinking occurred.

"The raider started shelling us about 6 o'clock on the morning of April 17," Mr. McKnight relates, "and as soon as the shelling ceased the 202 passengers, together with the crew of about 139, took to the lifeboats. Absolute order and calmness prevailed at all times. We were picked up by the raider, which was in reality nothing more than a freighter with several mounted guns, and transferred the next day to another German freighter, which took us, after a voyage of 32 days, to St. John-de-Luz in occupied France.

"The voyage to France was marked by crowded conditions, poor food, and the constant danger of interception by an English ship, but we reached France safely enough, with the exception of three men, two of whom were Americans, who had been injured during the shelling and could not be moved from the raider. To this day we do not know what happened to those men."

"After 11 days in France," the missionary continued, "we Americans were sent to Lisbon, Portugal, where the American consul arranged passage home. We arrived in New York on June 24. The non-Americans were interned in Bordeaux, France."

Also at the New Wilmington conference are Dr. and Mrs. Paul Smith of Nebraska, who were among the 136 missionaries aboard the "Zam-Zam." Together with Mr. McKnight, they related their experiences at a Sunday meeting of the delegates.

Mr. McKnight, who at present is residing in Allentown, Pa., sailed on the Zam-Zam on March 20. The ship was to have gone to Capetown and up the east coast of Africa. Mr. McKnight was to have disembarked at Mombasa, in the Kenya Colony. Mrs. McKnight and the couple's three daughters were forced by international conditions to remain in America.

The former East Brook resident is a graduate of Penn State college and also attended Westminster college for two years.

Accident Fatal To Greenville Boy

Boy Is Accidentally Shot In Unusual Manner On Sunday Afternoon

GREENVILLE, Pa., Aug. 4.—While sitting on a bank of the Shenango River, William McClimans, 13, was fatally wounded Sunday by a 13-year-old friend who aimed at a block of wood floating down the river.

The McClimans boy had been swimming and was resting on the bank. Three boys had been practicing rifle shooting on the opposite bank of the river and were about ready to quit when one said:

"Let's just take one more shot." Coroner James Higgins said that in some manner the bullet ricocheted off the water, striking the McClimans boy in the throat. He ran 50 yards to the Erie Railroad tracks and fell on the rails. The other boys rushed to him and carried him to Greenville hospital close by, but he was dead on arrival.

Applicants Should Arrive Early For Driver's Test

Because of the large number of applicants for a motor vehicle operator's license it is possible that some of them may have to go without a test Tuesday unless they arrive in time. The tests begin at 9 a. m., one hour earlier than a year ago. Those who wish to take the test should arrive as early as possible. They are examined in the order of arrival.

First Methodists Conduct Service

Rev. W. V. McLean Delivers Sermon; Epworth Church In Charge Next Sunday

There was a large attendance at the union service held in the community building at Cascade Park Sunday evening when the congregation and pastor of the First Methodist church had charge of the service.

A most interesting sermon was delivered by Rev. W. V. McLean, pastor of the church, who chose as his theme, "The City Without Walls." In speaking of Jerusalem, he told of that city's having a spiritual interpretation rather than mechanical, and of people trying to measure spiritual things by mechanical yardsticks which they cannot do. Security of a people, he said, is not so much in its physical forces as in its spiritual life as was proven true by cities of ancient days which fell because of disintegration within. A real asset of a city is not the number of people but the kind of people it has.

Rev. McLean was assisted in conducting the service, one in a series of summer services being sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association, by Rev. Sidney K. Bliss, new pastor of the Central Christian church, who gave the invocation and read scripture and by Rev. W. A. Thornton, Epworth Methodist church pastor, who gave a prayer.

Under the direction of Edwin Lewis, organist and music director of First Methodist church, the choir sang "Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven," by Mark Andrews, and "The Lord's Prayer," by Forsythe-Kraft.

Next Sunday, August 10, Rev. W. A. Thornton and members of Epworth Methodist church will be in charge of the park service.

EVERY day we Americans make millions of telephone calls—they may be for groceries or grass seed, pins or paint, coal or cold cream.

But today, there are thousands and thousands of other calls going over our wires—calls concerned with the defense of America! These calls may speed the construction of army camps, the delivery of machine guns and munitions—or even the building of a battleship or bomber!

This new load of telephone traffic is important to every American family. It must get a clear track and full speed ahead!

And so we ask that every telephone user cooperate to keep telephone service smooth and fast!

HERE ARE SOME SUGGESTIONS:

1. Don't trust to memory or to old lists for telephone numbers. It's best to look in the directory and make sure.
2. Answer the telephone promptly.
3. When you make a call, give the called party enough time to answer before "hanging up."
4. Try to avoid unnecessarily long conversations, especially if you are on a party line.

5. Be sure to hang up the instrument after every call. Failure to do so means your line is "busy"—though it may be doing nothing!

Your cooperation will speed the service that speeds defense!

Sharon Golfer Wins Public Links Event

John Lucas Captures West Penn Title At Sylvan Heights With 149 Score

ONLY ONE PAR ROUND RECORDED

Old man par liked a fine field of golfers at Sylvan Heights yesterday, when John Lucas of Sharon, a tough man in anybody's golf tournament, registered a 149 to capture the West Penn Public Links title at Sylvan Heights course Sunday.

Teeling off at 7:30 o'clock a field of 106 golfers banged away at par figures all day long, with Joseph Scully, Jr. of Coraopolis, who finished fourth after a playoff with Ted Lach, the only player to record a par round. The course was slow due to last week's heavy rains, and the extra roll which the players generally get on a smashing drive was missing. Added to this was a stiff wind which blew most of the morning, and which brought many to grief when they failed to put them down the middle.

Mike Bilovich of Lyndora, Pa., another fine golfer, began to get hot, coming in on his last round Sunday afternoon, and registered a 34 to post the best afternoon score of 73. Bilovich was two under par coming in. He covered four birdies, Ted Lach performed best for the local links champion, and Carl P. Kaufman, also of Pittsburgh, three winner of the national event. Szewko registered a 74-76 for 150 to take second place, and Lach was one stroke behind with 151 to tie Joseph Scully, Jr. of Coraopolis. In the "sudden death" playoff, that is, playing hole for hole until one player outscored another, Lach won on his first hole in the playoff to take third.

A fine field was entered in the event, and a splendid gallery was present throughout the day and a crowd of around 3,000 coming out to watch their favorites play, with most of the throng following the champions, Szewko, Kaufman and Lach.

The Manager Chris Coulthard and President Ed Roney of the Sylvan Heights Golf Association were in their praise of the splendid manner in which the committee, headed by General Chairman William T. Saul and U. S. G. A. representative Geno Veri, composed of the players in the Sylvan Heights event, handled the big event. Joe Platt, western Pennsylvania U. S. G. A. representative, also praised the locals. The tournament was under his supervision.

Pirates Defeat New York Twice

Pittsburgh Takes Third Place In National League By Winning Two

By PAT ROBINSON

International News Service Sports

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Baseball's new men were correct, perhaps, when they said there would never be another miracle team like the Boston Braves of 1914, but it is not beyond the realm of possibility today that the latest vintage of Pittsburgh will prove the soothsayers to be mistaken.

Hal Newhouse hurled Boston to a 6 to 3 decision over Detroit and the veteran Ted Lyons kept six hits scattered as Chicago thumped Washington, 9 to 0, to round out the American League business.

Those Braves of yesteryear, you remember, comprised the elements of the most dramatic saga ever written in baseball. It was the team led by Manager George Stallings. Sarge Hank Gowdy did the catching. Rabbit Marvins was living his heyday, and fellows like Rudolph and Taylor and James were pitching themselves to a pennant contrary to the expectations of everybody.

The team was trailing along in last place on July 18. The next day they moved out of the cellar, then went on to win the National League title by 10½ games and subsequently knocked off Philadelphia in four straight world series contests.

It's difficult to match the story of that miracle club, but it becomes increasingly apparent that the 1941 Pirates may even surpass the record of the Braves.

Pirates Win Two

Boston was only 11 games away from first place when it surged out of the cellar and upward to take the lead. In contrast, Pittsburgh was 16 games off pace in late June, even after the Pirates had successfully navigated out of the darkness of the lower region sometime in May.

In the event Pittsburgh should continue their dizzy winning spree and win the pennant, then the men of Manager Frankie Frisch can boast an even more sensational distance climb than the 1914 Braves. The Pirates haven't a gowdy nor a Marvins nor a pitching staff comparable to the old-timers, but they have the fight and fire of Frisch and whatever else it takes to win ball games.

The won a pair of them yesterday from the sagging New York Giants and thereby moved ahead of Cincinnati into the third rung of the league ladder. Lloyd Dietz relieved Ken Heintzheim and shut the Giants out, 5 to 4, in the opener and New York blew the lead again in the finale to give the Pirates a 10 to 4 decision.

Cincinnati, meanwhile, dropped a pair of shutouts to Boston, 5 to 0 and 8 to 0, the latter a three-hit job by young John Huchings.

Brooklyn coasted along to the triumph after the Dodger bats exploded a six-run barrage in the second, but the victory was somewhat idle insofar as the league leading St. Louis Cardinals widened the margin over Brooklyn to a game and a half by taking Philadelphia twice by scores of 6 to 1. Mort Cooper in the first game and Lon Warneke in the second missed white-washing the Phils when they served home run tosses, respectively, to Johnny Rizzo and Dan Litzwhiler.

Yanks Lose Two

The New York Yankees, meanwhile, had their first taste of a double defeat this season. The lowly St. Louis Browns beat them, 6 to 2 and 5 to 0, and stopped the winning streaks of pitchers Red Ruffing and Alcy Donald and the consecutive hitting of Joe DiMaggio. Bob Harris cut the Yanks to a pair of hits in the finale.

This stoppage of Yankee plate power enabled Cleveland to reduce New York's monopoly on first place to 1½ games—if such minutiae really matters.

The Indians split their double bill with Philadelphia. Bob Feller finally managed to win his No. 20 this season by holding the Athletics to three hits as the Tribe got a 6 to 3 decision in the inaugural. Dick Sieber's timely fly sent Wally Moses home with the winning run and a 4 to 3 triumph over the A's in the nightcap. A crowd of 40,300—largest in Shibe Park's history—witnessed the games.

How To Live Happily And Be Fisherman

COLUMBUS, Aug. 4—Fishermen here are some tips from the Ohio division of conservation and natural resources:

Wear proper clothing for protection against wind, sunburn and insect stings; carry a flask of drinking water—never drink from streams or lakes unless water has been boiled; be careful in boats: when bait casting from a boat cast overhead for the safety of your companions; carry a first aid kit to sterilize scratches and punctures from hooks and fish teeth; don't pull a barbed hook from a wound—work it out through the skin; when stormy weather threatens, head your boat for shore.

Changes in Most Cases Small
Today As Market Begins
New Week

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, August 4.—The stock market resumed its irregularly lower trend today but changes in most instances were small and a few sections, notably amusements and some of the rayon shares, bucked the trend for small gains. Utilities also were comparatively firm.

American Viscose, making its initial appearance on the board, opened at 29 1/2 on a block of 3,000 shares. The issue, which was publicly offered last May at 24, later slipped to 28 1/2, before meeting support and preferred were actively higher, the latter at a new high for the year. Industrial Rayon and Celanese also showed modest gains at one time. Meanwhile, silk shares continued under pressure. Van Raaite dropped more than a point to a new low, while the preferred eased its 1941 bottom on a similar loss.

Bellehlem was off almost a point before its slide was checked and U. S. Steel gave up a fraction. Allied Chemical tumbled 2 points.

Electrical equipments, coppers, rails and rail equipments generally were a shade lower. Motors, mail orders and rubbers were steady.

Golden Wedding
Observed Sunday
By David Shaffers

Family And Friends Join In Celebration Of Memorable Event

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—In memory's book of golden events one of the most shining for Mr. and Mrs. David Shaffers of Knox, Pa., will be the pages recording their joyful celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary, which was an event of Sunday at their home.

During the day, more than one hundred friends and relatives from all of the surrounding towns and vicinity called at the home to offer congratulations and best wishes to the well-known couple, who are enjoying fairly good health. As the guests came and went, they were served delicious refreshments by members of the family.

The couple was married on August 4, 1891, at New Castle by Rev. W. R. Laird, who was pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church of that city. The occasion was of double significance because it also marked the twenty-first birthday anniversary of the bride. Miss Frances Frye, daughter of Solomon and Mary Leis Frye, and she was born in Perry township, near Portersville.

Mr. Shaffers is a son of the late Jacob and Rebecca Shaffer and was born in Harmony, Butler County. They have always resided in this vicinity.

They are the parents of eight children, who all attended the celebration with their families. They are: Mrs. Ethel White, Mrs. Harry Aiken, Mrs. Eva Book, Mrs. Shaffers of Ellwood; Emmett Shaffers of Petersburg, O.; Mrs. Mary Lutz of Zellenople, and Clarence and Stanley Shaffers, of Frisco and Knox, respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Shaffer also have 42 grand and 5 great-grandchildren. At noon, a family dinner was held with all of the children and most of the grandchildren in attendance.

During the day, Mr. and Mrs. Shaffers were the recipients of many lovely cards, flowers, and gifts evidencing the esteem and affection which they have held.

Rev. Frye has been pastor of the New Kensington church for the past four years. He is married and has two children, and the family will move to this city during the latter part of this month. He will begin services at the local church on the first Sunday of September, and will also serve as pastor of the New Castle church of God.

Rev. E. I. Everhart, who has served the church for the past two years, resigned last spring to enter the evangelistic field.

Four Generations
Attend Reunion

ELLWOOD CITY, August 4.—With four generations of the family in attendance, the annual reunion of the descendants of Frank B. Whiteman of Jamestown took place on Sunday at Pymatung dam.

Most delicious picnic meals were enjoyed at noon and in the early evening with 45 members of the family attending from Altoona, Williamsburg, North East, Portersville, New Castle and this vicinity. Sports and ball games were featured in the afternoon.

Next year the gathering will be held at the same place on the first Sunday of August.

B. D. Turner Is Fatally Stricken

Prominent Ellwood City Electrician Dies Today Following Heart Attack

ELLWOOD CITY, August 4.—Ellwood City and the surrounding communities were greatly saddened today by the very sudden death of one of its best known and liked residents, B. D. Turner, aged 63 years, who died at 3:30 o'clock this morning at his home, 117 Second street.

Mr. Turner, who had been in usual health and who just recently returned from one of his frequent fishing trips to Canada, was stricken with a heart attack.

He had been a resident of Ellwood City for 48 years and was an electrical contractor. He had operated an electric shop for many years. A good natured, likeable, sincere man, he was known and admired by a legion of friends. He was a member of the Elks lodge and his church affiliation was with the First Methodist congregation.

His wife, Mrs. Rheta Turner, two sons, Stewart and James, both of whom are in the service, and two daughters, Mrs. W. W. Seidel and Mrs. Frank Blackburn, Ellwood, and Mrs. F. P. Filer, Mercer, and one brother, Dr. Loren Turner, of Pittsburgh survive.

Funeral services will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence. Interment will be made in the Zellenople mausoleum.

Gas Stations In
Ellwood Observe
Curfew Rules

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—Local and surrounding gasoline dealers met at the Chamber of Commerce late Saturday afternoon and unanimously agreed to cooperate with Oil Co. Ordinator Harold L. Ickes' plan for conserving fuel supplies here in the east by closing the sale of gasoline from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. daily. The new policy went into effect at 7 p. m. last night.

All dealers voiced the thought that they would rather lose 25 per cent of their business and be 100 per cent patriotic and behind the fuel conservation program of the United States Government.

No fines or penalties will be inflicted on offenders who sell gasoline after the 7 p. m. deadline, but the station will be ear-marked as unpatriotic to the general public.

Service stations who run a tire shop or accessory lines are allowed to remain open to sell merchandise from these departments.

Smith Reunion
Held Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, August 4.—Descendants of Joseph and Nancy Smith, numbering 75, gathered on Saturday at Con-E-Que for the annual reunion.

The day was spent enjoyably with picnic meals being enjoyed at noon and in the evening. Officers for the picnic to be held next year at the same place were chosen as follows: President, Harry Smith; vice president, Edward Smith; secretary, Mrs. Floyd Kramer; and treasurer, Lewis Durr.

Picnic arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. Harry Furr, and a fine program of sports was directed by Mrs. Elmer Best and Miss Dorothy Deemer.

Money Is Stolen
From Rossi Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—The sum of $1,875 in cash, and other stocks and bonds, hidden in a steel box were stolen from the home of Patsy Rossi, 500 Glen avenue, sometime during the past week while the family were away on a vacation, it is reported.

Chief of Police Ernest Hartman who is investigating the case, said that an arrest would probably be made today.

Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Carson and family, Crescent avenue, are on a three weeks' vacation trip to Canada and other northern points.

Ketterer Reunion

Is Held Saturday

Ewing Park Grove Is Scene Of 39th Annual Gathering Attended By One Hundred

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—For the 39th time, representatives of the Ketterer clan assembled on Saturday for their annual get-together, and this year's gathering held at cool Ewing Park grove, was one of the most delightful on record.

About 100 members of the clan, coming from Massillon, O., and many surrounding towns, participated, with the event beginning with a bountiful dinner at noon.

After the dinner, H. J. Ketterer presided at the business meeting, with talks being given by different members, and most interesting greetings from Mrs. Sarah Phillips, of California, were read by Mrs. Harry Ketterer.

Officers for next year's reunion to be held on the first Saturday of August at the same place, were chosen as follows: president, Charles Timblin; vice president, Harry Ketterer; secretary, Dan Broberger; treasurer, Roy Hazen; property chairman, Kenneth Ketterer, and sports chairman, Jack Ketterer.

With activities for all age groups included, a fine sports program was directed by Dan Brophy. Among the awards presented were: William Ketterer, Zellenople, the oldest; Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ketterer, Wurtemburg, the youngest; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ketterer, latest married couple, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ketterer, longest married couple.

P. H. C. LODGE

ELLWOOD CITY, July 4.—The P. H. C. lodge will meet on Tuesday night at eight o'clock at the bank hall for the installation of officers. Ivan Ishman, Sharon, will conduct the service, and the new state deputy will attend. Mrs. Leona Yeager is chairman of the lunch committee.

CRAVEN REUNION

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—The 14th annual Craven reunion will be held on Saturday, Aug. 9, at Ewing Park grove.

Chester B. Dicks
Is Named Manager
Of Liquor Store

Manager Of Ellwood Store Is Named Head Of Central Store, New Castle

ELLWOOD CITY, August 4.—The many friends of Chester B. Dicks, Franklin avenue, will be interested to learn that he has been promoted to the management of the central state liquor store at New Castle.

For the past four and one-half years, he has been manager of the Ellwood store and altogether has been associated with various stores for the past eight years.

With his family, he will move to New Castle in the near future. Frank DeMauro has been appointed to fill the vacancy at the local store.

WCTU Medal Contest
To Be Held Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—Tonight at 8 o'clock at the Wurtemburg Methodist church, the Wurtemburg W. C. T. U. will hold a silver medal contest and program with the public being invited to attend.

Taking part in the oratorical contest will be Leatrice Koach, Leta Cooper, Dale Musselman, Leta Smith and Esther Potter. After the contest, a playlet, "The Sparking Glass," will be enacted by Joyce Gibbons, Helen May Stewart, Doris Nye, Ruth Marshall, Frances Hazen, Junior Hazen, Charles Fox and Wilbur Burruss. The playlet is being directed by Mrs. E. J. Liebenfelder and Mrs. Wilbur Steffler will preside.

Concluding the program with the showing of a motion picture entitled, "The Pay-Off."

Party Honors
Jack Gallaher

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—The fourth birthday anniversary of Jack Gallaher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gallaher, of First avenue, was fittingly celebrated on Saturday afternoon when a merry party was held at his home.

From two until five o'clock, the fifteen little guests were happily entertained with games and contests, and the prize winners were Esther Lynn, James and Connie Porter.

At one long table prettily appointed in yellow and adorned with a large birthday cake, the group were served "party" refreshments by the hostess aided by her mother, Mrs. Clara Young, and her sister, Mrs. William Hockenberry.

Lovely gifts that make a child's birthday were presented to make the occasion a perfect success.

Park Gate Baptist Church Has Picnic

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 4.—One of the merriest of Saturday's picnics took place at Ewing Park grove when members of the Park Gate Baptist church assembled for their annual frolic.

There was a large group in attendance and a delectable dinner was served under the direction of Mrs. Walter LeHaven, Mrs. Ira Brown, Mrs. Curtis Main, Sr., Mrs. Doris Dellerbach and Mrs. John Wright. After the dinner, singing was directed by Edwin Reed, of Beaver.

A full program of sports for all age groups was enjoyed in the afternoon under the direction of Meda Bazzichi, Pate Householder, Goldie Main, Dorothy Rough, Lorraine Lawrence Francis and Mrs. Glenn Main.
